Mercury Soars Above 90 Here 8th Successive Day; Relief Chances Uncertain

'Cooler' Due In Section of State Sunday

May Reach Marion, Ending City's String Of 94-Degree Highs

Marion marked its eighth straight day of over-90-degree temperatures today, but some small measure of relief is a possibility for Sunday.

It all depends on how far south a cool front moves tomorrow.

North Ohio Has Hope

Weather forecasters in Columbus predicted another hot and humid day today, with scattered thundershowers, and more muggy weather Sunday, but turning cooler in the north section of the state Sunday afternoon.

Friday's high temperature was 94 degrees—the fourth straight day that maximum has been obtained. At 1:30 p.m. today the temperature had risen to 91.

Although showers and cooler air brought a little relief to some of the heat-stricken regions of the Midwest today, the season's prolonged spell of hot and humid weather clung to other parts of the area, including most of Ohio, and the eastern and southern sections of the nation.

The center of the cooler air in western Lake Superior, which at first was thought to be moving south to include this area, moved eastward instead. It was expected to reach north of Lake Ontario tonight, according to the Associated Press dispatch.

Light Rain Here

At the local weather station early last night, as dark rain clouds covered the skies, one-hundredth of an inch of rain was recorded. In other sections of Marion and the county, only a light rain fell for just a few minutes.

From the high of 94 yesterday, the mercury dropped only to 72 during the night. At 7:30 this morning, thermometers registered 77 but by 9:30 the mercury had started to climb and stood at 82.

Rain this morning was a bit choosy as to where it fell. Out Mt. Vernon Ave. way there were "puddles" and the south and business section of the city were favored with enough to keep pavements damp for a while. In the vicinity of the Tecumseh Products Co., residents heard thunder but no raindrops were forthcoming.

The same weather as has prevailed throughout the area for the last several weeks is forecast for over the weekend, with the predic-

Doctors Find 11 Airmen in Good Health

Men Released by Red China Are Reported in 'Amazing Condition'

TOKYO, (AP)—Eleven U.S. airmen released by Communist China Thursday are "all completely okay physically," an Air Force medical source said after the fliers were examined by doctors today.

"It's amazing to see these men smiling after what they have been through. They are in amazing condition," the source said.

Internal Condition

The optimistic report covered internal physical condition, not visible injuries such as a lost toe and crippled fingers suffered by Maj. William H. Baumer of Lewisburg, Pa. Baumer's left leg was wounded when the fliers' B29 was shot down. Later he suffered frost bite.

The airmen, dressed in military hospital gowns, were confined as patients in the huge air conditioned hospital at nearby Far East Air Materiel Command Base.

Scores of air policemen surrounded their ward to keep outsiders from contacting them. It was learned the Red Cross has set up special telephone lines to permit them to call their families, but the Air Force was permitting no calls until it is finished examining and questioning them.

It was learned American intelligence officials began questioning the fliers today about what they saw in 32 months inside Red China. There was good reason to believe the fliers are being sent home from Hong Kong via Tokyo because U.S. intelligence experts on China are concentrated in Japan.

May Leave Monday

One report said the men would leave Monday via Alaska for the United States. An Air Force source said that on orders from Washington, no details would be announced until a press conference scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday.

Airman 2C. Daniel C. Schmidt, Redding, Calif., who learned Friday that his wife has remarried while he was in captivity, appeared composed. He was spotted cashing greenback dollars into military script to buy a camera.

Air policemen would not permit newsmen to approach him. Later, Schmidt was overheard telling an unidentified Catholic chaplain, "I was thinking of converting. I haven't made up my mind yet. I've caused enough trouble as it is."

Schmidt earlier said he hoped to talk by telephone with his wife, Una, in California.

She has left a trailer camp near Cisco, Calif., where she had been living with her second husband, Alford Fine, a logging tractor driver, and Schmidt's 4½-year-old son, Daniel. The airman has not seen his child.

TOGETHER AGAIN. Katherine Cullison, 28, holds up her daughter, Kathleen, 2½, after they were reunited at St. Vincent's Home in Chicago. Mrs. Cullison battled tuberculosis to be reunited with her baby, who was taken from her at birth when she lay critically ill in the Municipal Tuberculosis Sanitarium.

Cease Fire Talks Out, Says Communist China

LONDON (AP) — Red China expressed hope today for "positive results" in talks with the United States at Geneva, but said any discussion of a "cease fire" in the Formosa dispute was out.

Peiping Radio declared that a "cease fire between China and the Chiang Kai-shek clique" was a Chinese domestic affair which has nothing to do with the United States.

Algerian Rebels Killed

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP) — Troops guarding the Tunisian border intercepted a strong Algerian rebel band Friday and killed 12 of them. One soldier was killed and five wounded. The clash took place about 20 miles inside Tunisia, southwest of Kasserine.

Suzan Ball, Carmen Miranda

2 Screen Actresses Claimed by Death

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Death, in two guises, has taken two Hollywood actresses whose passing the screen capital mourned today.

A lingering death from cancer claimed the life of Suzan Ball at 21.

Miss Ball, a striking, dark-haired dark-eyed actress, had suffered from the disease which caused her death since 1953, when she slipped and injured her knee in a dance rehearsal.

Her right leg was later amputated, and valiant Suzan went on to marriage and a resumption of her screen career before the malignancy returned—this time in her lungs.

She died Friday at her home in Beverly Hills.

Miss Miranda also died in a Beverly Hills home—but after a strenuous day spent singing and dancing with the dazzling energy which won her fame as the "Brazilian Bombshell."

Miss Ball's husband, actor Richard Long, had been told by doctors that death was near. But Miss Miranda's husband, producer David

Kentuckians Flock to Polls For Primary

Hot Democratic Party Campaign Expected To Result in Big Vote

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A record vote appeared almost a certainty today as Kentucky chose candidates for governor in one of the hottest Democratic primaries ever held in a state famous for lusty elections.

Voting was extremely heavy. No disorder was reported.

General interest and factional bitterness, plus hot but otherwise perfect weather, were expected to lure a half million or more Democrats to the polls. Possibly not more than 100,000 were expected to vote in the quiet Republican primary.

Chandler in Comeback

Former Gov. A. B (Happy) Chandler, the one-time baseball commissioner, is attempting a political comeback in the Democratic primary.

Some observers rated his comeback try a tossup with Judge Bert T. Combs, choice of Gov. Lawrence Wetherby and the state's two U.S. senators—Alben W. Barkley and Earle C. Clements.

Also in the Democratic contest is Jesse N. R. Cecil, unsuccessful in previous tries for the office.

Outcome of the primary battle will have a bearing on Sen. Clements' political future and the makeup of Kentucky's delegation to the 1956 Democratic presidential nominating convention.

Chandler has indicated that, if elected, he would have an opponent face Clements when the senator, now acting majority leader, comes up for renomination next year.

Barkley has accused Chandler in speeches of deserting him during the 1952 national convention, when the former vice president was a candidate for the presidential nomination. Barkley claimed Chandler—while pledged to Barkley—worked against him, preferring Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia. Barkley returned to the Senate again last year.

Held Post Before

At 57, Chandler is attempting to recapture the governorship he gave up in 1939 to go to the U. S. Senate.

Combs, 43, resigned from the Court of Appeals, the state's highest tribunal, to run with state administration support. Wetherby is ineligible to succeed himself.

Seeking the GOP nomination are former U. S. Dist. Atty. Edwin R. Denney, 51, and James L. Clay, 42, also an attorney.

The winners will meet prohibition and independent candidates in the Nov. 8 election. Kentucky usually gives the governorship to the Democratic nominee. No Republican has held the office since 1943.

Voters also will choose nominees from eight other state offices; 20 of 38 state Senate seats; all 100 seats in the House; Combs' old post on the court, and district and local offices.

Almost all Kentucky's 120 counties will use long paper ballots. And unless there is a decided edge for one of the candidates, results may be delayed until Monday. Counting stops at midnight tonight under state law.

School Board Seeks 9.2-Mill Levy Renewal

Funds To Pay Current Expenses; 20 County Residents File Petitions

A petition seeking the placement of a tax levy asking for the renewal of 9.2 mills for expenses of Marion schools was filed Friday with the Marion County Board of Elections by the city school board.

Also filed Friday and this morning were candidacy petitions by 20 county residents seeking township and local school board posts.

The 9.2-mill levy is a renewal of existing levies providing for the current expenses of the city school district for a period of four years.

County residents filing petitions, and the posts sought, are as follows: Roy Waddell Jr. of Caledonia, clerk and treasurer of Caledonia; Cecil J. Roberts of near Cale-

3 Lockbourne Airmen Killed In Auto Crash

2 Others Injured, One Critically, as Car Hits Truck Near Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP)—A trip to Pennsylvania by a group of Air Force men on a weekend pass was cut short by death and disaster last night when the airmen's car struck the rear of a dump truck on U. S. 40, two miles west of here.

Three airmen were killed by the collision and two more were injured, one critically. A pair of teenagers in the truck were also injured seriously.

The servicemen, all of whom held the rank of airman third class at Lockbourne AFB, Columbus, were identified as:

Adolph McCory, 22, Columbus, dead after arrival at Cambridge St. Francis Hospital.

William R. Neptune, 19, Johnstown, Pa., and Raymond S. Fabo, 18, South Fork, Pa., both dead on arrival at the hospital.

James R. Wilson, 18, Rt. 1, South Fork, Pa., in critical condition at the hospital with multiple injuries, including a possible brain concussion.

George Miller, 20, the driver, Rt. 1, Holland, Ohio, hospitalized in serious condition.

'Mike' McDermott Dies; Press Officer 30 Years

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Michael J. (Mike) McDermott, who served as State Department press officer nearly 30 years, died unexpectedly Friday night, apparently of a heart ailment.

McDermott, 61, served in the press post until 1953, and rounded out his work for the department as ambassador to El Salvador. He retired as ambassador early this year.

Polio-Stricken New England Seeking Nurses

26 Cases in Boston Area Increase 6-State Total to Nearly 1,000

BOSTON, (AP) — A nation-wide appeal for more nurses to care for New England's rising toll of polio cases was broadcast Friday night by Dr. John H. Cauley, Boston Health commissioner.

Dr. Cauley's appeal on a network news show came as the number of polio cases in the six-state area soared to just under the 1,000 mark.

Cauley called for all available full and part-time nurses to help in Boston's six hospitals. A clearing house for polio cases was established yesterday after Mayor John B. Hynes proclaimed a state of "limited emergency."

The Boston Health Department Friday reported 26 new cases, bringing the city total this year to 301 and the Massachusetts number to 773. A year ago the state had 88 cases.

The official New England count Friday was 999 cases, as compared with 220 last year. State totals and the corresponding 1954 figures were: Connecticut 108-92; New Hampshire 40-14; Rhode Is-

President Flies To Gettysburg In New Aircraft

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower brought his homework down to the farm.

He came here Friday afternoon in a new blue and white Air Force plane bought for short hops.

Mrs. Eisenhower had arrived by car earlier in the day and was waiting at their farm home near Gettysburg.

The Presidential homework was several hundred bills passed by the Congress that ended its 1955 session this week. Aides said Eisenhower plans to act on all of them before he returns to Washington for a Cabinet meeting next Friday.

His trip here was his first in the new two-engined plane which the Air Force said cost just under $75,000. It is slightly modified from another light plane which the President had used for four short hops in June and July. The Air Force said it had leased the older model from the makers, the Aero Design & Engineering Co. of Bethany, Okla., for $40 per flight hour and now had turned it back to the company.

The new plane is from the same company. Its passenger cabin is about 10 inches longer. Inside it is one revolving hassock chair and several reclining chairs.

The Air Force said it is purchasing 15 similar planes to fly government officials on comparatively short trips.

For longer trips, the President uses a four-engined super constellation, the Columbine III.

He probably will go in it to the summer White House at Denver after his return to Washington. He plans to go to Colorado Aug. 14 or 15 and stay at least several weeks.

Wealthy Auto Dealer's Wife Is Feared Slain

Bloodstained Clothes Only Clues to Fate of Woman in Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A widespread search for a wealthy automobile dealer's missing wife, feared kidnaped and slain, had failed to turn up any productive leads by early today.

The blood-spattered clothing and car of Mrs. Wilma Allen, 34, mother of two, were the only clues.

Mrs. Allen, who always cautioned her two young sons to scream if any strange persons attempted to enter their motor car, was last seen early Thursday afternoon during a shopping trip.

Her husband, president of one of Kansas City's larger automobile agencies, said "If anybody — a stranger—tried to force entry into her car, I'm sure she would have screamed and put up a severe struggle."

Allen told friends he had almost given up hope of seeing his wife alive and does not believe she is a victim of a kidnap plot for ransom.

Maj. Eugene Pond, chief of detectives, said a report that two men were seen dragging a woman across a road at a lake where the

Harriman Not Interested In Second Spot on Ticket

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman has closed the door to suggestions that he might accept second place on the Democratic national ticket next year.

Harriman, generally regarded as a potential candidate for the Presidential nomination, said at a news conference Friday that he was "not interested" in running for Vice President.

Three Places Open

J. C. Ballinger Is Fourth School Board Candidate

The fourth candidate for three vacancies on the Marion city school board filed his petition with the Marion County Board of Elections this morning. He is J. C. Ballinger of 613 Oak St.

Vice-president of Rieger and Co., a building repair firm, Ballinger is seeking his first public office.

He is a native of Marion and is a graduate of Harding High School.

Ballinger is a member of the First Church of the Brethren, the Home Builders Association and is president of the Oak Street PTA and is leader of Cub Scout Pack 55 of Oak Street School.

His wife is the former Marian Schneider and they have three children, Georgia Kay in the fourth grade, Steven in the third grade, and David, six months old.

His mother, Mrs. Wildia Ballinger, resides at 233 Forest Lawn Blvd.

Other candidates for the three vacancies are Dr. James S. Greetham, Carroll E. Schmidt and Wayne H. Kuhn.

Visiting Russian Farm Leaders in Minnesota

WORTHINGTON, Minn., (AP) — The Soviet farm chiefs began their fourth week in the United States by setting out to see farming in Minnesota — the fourth Midwest state they have toured.

Six Russians are here in this city which claims to be "the turkey capital of the world." Two others of the dozen are in Minneapolis. Three are in Wyoming. One, the head of the delegation, is in Texas.

Solemn Ceremony Held

Hiroshima Citizens Mark Bomb's 10th Anniversary

HIROSHIMA, Japan. (AP) —Hiroshima marked the 10th anniversary of its atomic destruction today with an appeal to the world "never to repeat the tragedy."

The birthday of war's first nuclear bombing dawned hot, with a few clouds dotting the sky, just like Aug. 6, 1945.

Many Up Before Dawn

Survivors of A-bomb victims arose before dawn to secure places close to the center of Nakashima Peace park, site of the anniversary ceremony.

As the sun rose, they burned incense and strewed flowers at the foot of the cenotaph, a stone white arch bearing the inscription "rest ye in peace, for we (humanity) shall never repeat the mistake."

By 8 a.m., the crowd had grown to 50,000. All was still.

The instant of 8:15 brought not the blinding flash and death of 1945 but the tolling of bells and sounding of whistles.

The throng knelt in prayer for the dead and for peace.

Mayor Tadao Watanabe, in the city's annual peace declaration, said, "we will continue to remind the world never to repeat the tragedy of Hiroshima until true world peace is established eternally."

500 Doves Released

Five hundred doves were released as he spoke.

"Our great fear of the atomic bomb," the mayor said, "is not because we have experienced it, but because the people of the world do not understand how dreadful it is, because it occurred in a small dot of the world."

Canadian Police Seize Million Worth of Dope

TORONTO (AP) — Canadian police announced today the biggest seizure of narcotics in Canada in 50 years and said their arrest of two men and a woman hit at a dope ring operating between here and Europe.

Toronto police and Royal Canadian Mounties cooperated in a raid on a house Friday night where five pounds of heroin and one pound of raw opium were seized. They said the black market value was one million dollars.

They arrested two men they identified as Jacob Rosenblat, 52, a furniture salesman; Jack Goldhar, 49, an auto salesman; and Hannelore Rosenbloom, 23, a housewife, all of Toronto.

Hails From Clermont County

Zither-Playing Brunette Wins Crown as Miss Ohio

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Miss Ohio is a black-haired, brown-eyed 18-year-old who plays the zither and sings.

The title was confered last night upon Marguerite Garr of the little village of Amelia in Clermont County, selected over 10 other candidates in judging here.

Feared She Had Lost

For a time, she thought she hadn't even placed.

She listened in silence as the names of other and lesser victors in the contest were announced. Her face mirrored her disappointment, one reporter observed.

Then an outsize check for $1,000, the monetary award for becoming Ohio's representative in the Miss America contest at Atlantic City next Labor Day weekend, was held up for the audience to see.

A member of the Cincinnati Junior Chamber of Commerce, one of Miss Garr's sponsors, saw the name on the check and shouted: "You, Margie, you!"

Miss Garr turned white, then blushed and finally squealed her delight. "I'll try to do the best I can. . .I don't know what to say," she said later.

Five feet-two, Miss Garr weighs 105 pounds and measures 35-24-35. For the talent part of the contest, she sang "Old Black Joe" and accompanied herself on the zither. She was entered as Miss Cincinnati, under sponsorship of the Jaycees and radio station WKRC.

The first alternate was a 20-year-old blue-eyed blonde from Springfield, Nancy Osborn, who played a piano solo, Chopin's "Fantasy Impromptu." She won $500.

ADA Criticism Of Ike 'Unjust,' Says Kefauver

Defends President, and His Own Party, Against Charge of Indifference

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) labeled as "unjust" today an Americans for Democratic Action assertion that both President Eisenhower and Democratic congressional leaders have shown "indifference to the public interest."

Kefauver, who classes himself in the "liberal" wing of his party, said he does not agree with the ADA charges voiced Friday by National Chairman Joseph L. Rauh Jr.

ADA Criticism

Rauh said Eisenhower offered "hopelessly inadequate" remedies for critical domestic problems and the Democrats accepted them in the name of "teamwork."

The ADA is a private organization, espousing New Deal principles, which often supports Democratic candidates.

"It is unthoughtful and unjust to make any such blanket indictment of the Democratic congressional leaders and of President Eisenhower," Kefauver said in an interview.

"Congress didn't accomplish everything we would have liked to do but it was quite successful in foreign affairs matters. There was more confusion on domestic issues but we still have another session and I hope that in it school construction, highway, social security, water resources and farm legislation will be the first order of business."

Rauh told reporters ADA welcomes "the revival of bipartisanship on foreign affairs." He added "such bipartisanship is no excuse for bipartisan suffocation of social and economic legislation."

School Proposal Rapped

He called Eisenhower's proposal for federal aid in building schools inadequate. He accused Southern Democrats of preventing a vote on any school bill because of fear antisegregation riders might be attached.

Sen. Holland (D-Fla) said he doesn't think anybody is going to pay much attention to the ADA complaint.

Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif) said Eisenhower's recommendations on domestic problems were "excellent." He said blame for their failure of passage rested on the doorstep of the Democratic-controlled Congesss.

The Senate passed its own version of a road construction bill but the House rejected all such legislation in a dispute over financing it.

20 Deaths So Far

Twenty polio deaths have been reported in Massachusetts to date.

State health officials said 19 children who received Salk vaccine were stricken with polio. In New Hampshire, state officials said five Salk-inoculated youngsters have polio.

Although Dr. Joseph Reardon, State Health Department epidemiologist, said there was no epidemic in Boston, local health officials advised parents not to bring their children to the city.

Massachusetts health officials have said they do not recommend the closing of beaches and public swimming areas. Some communities, however, have temporarily ordered such places closed.

Work on Pipelines for LaRue Gas Service Is Begun

Big 30,000-Foot Project Will Take 6 Weeks For Completion

Installation of pipelines for LaRue's first gas service was started this week.

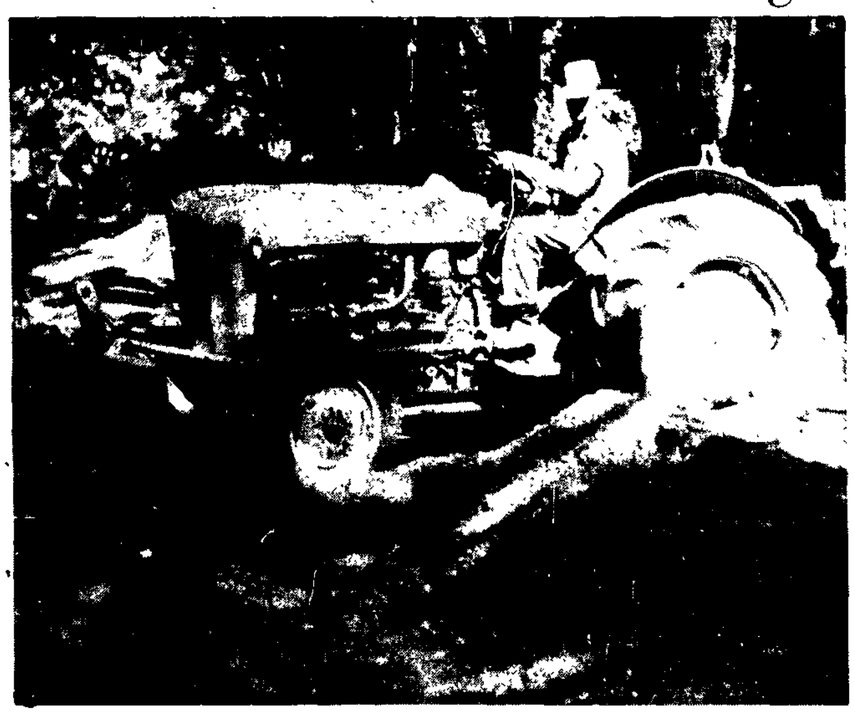
Workmen estimated that by the end of this week, 4,000 of the 30,000 feet of pipeline required would be laid. The project was started Monday and is expected to take between six weeks and two months to complete.

The pipeline is being installed by workmen from the Don W. Miller Co. of Green Springs, O., who were awarded the job by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., with assistance by gas company employes.

The pipeline project started south of LaRue on Route 37, leaped across a bridge over the Scioto River and has reached the south edge of LaRue just east of Route 37. Workers said they will return to install connecting pipeline underneath the bridge in its framework.

The LaRue installation was one part of a $792,000 pipeline project by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. which received approval last week of the Federal Power Commission. Action on the gas service for LaRue began this spring when village residents requested it. There are approximately 348 potential customers in LaRue.

Although LaRue has never had gas service on a village-wide basis, many years ago, it is reported, there were privately-owned gas wells. One of these wells was in a field south of the Ford Funeral Home and provided for gas lights in the Presbyterian Church. The house, which is now owned by the village mayor, Mrs. Estelle Armstrong, and which was built by Major William LaRue, founder of the village, also is said to have been supplied with gas from a privately-owned well.



HEAVY EQUIPMENT is being used for part of the installation of gas pipelines in LaRue. Here a workman from the Don W. Miller Co. of Green Springs, O., shovels earth, which was dug up so that the pipe could be lowered beneath the ground, back into place. The work was being done Friday just east of Route 37 at the south edge of LaRue. Some 4,000 feet of pipeline were to be installed from a connection point south of the village on Route 37 and within the village limits by the end of this week.

tion reading partly cloudy and continued rather hot tonight and Sunday, with scattered thundershowers possible mostly during the afternoon and evening.

The low tonight is expected to range between 68 and 75.

Although Chicago got some respite from 11 straight days of 90 or higher temperatures, the hot and humid weather persisted in the southern half of Illinois and Indiana.

Readings climbed to 100 Friday in Boston and at New York's LaGuardia Field. It was a hot 94 in New York City, 97 in Philadelphia and in the 90s over most of the Eastern third of the country. Similar marks were in prospect today.

100 in Southwest

Temperatures of 100 or above were general in the Southwest desert region with Blythe and Thermal, Calif., and Gila Bend, Ariz., each reporting a top of 104. It was 97 early this morning in Blythe.

But readings were mostly in the 60s early today across the Northern Plains and in the Northern Great Lakes region. They were in the 70s and some 80s from Kansas to southern New England and southward to the Gulf.

One belt of thundershowers extended from eastern Kansas to the Southern Great Lakes. Another stretched from eastern Colorado northward into the Dakotas.

Picnic Scheduled By Depot Workers

Employes of the Marion Engineer Depot and their families will attend a family picnic at the Depot picnic grounds Sunday afternoon and evening.

Events will get under way at 1 p. m. with contests for adults and children planned until 5 p. m. Various rides will be available for the children.

A dance at 8 p. m. will conclude activities. The picnic is being sponsored by the Depot Employes Welfare Council. Jerry Wynn is general chairman of the picnic committee for the Council.

Middletown Paper Worker Shot Down

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Robert Hunter, 48, a paper worker, was shot to death on the front porch of his home here today. A few minutes after the shooting, Willie Peasley, 23, walked into the city building and told Police Capt. John Fitzgerald "I think I shot a fellow in the stomach."

Fitzgerald said the reason for the shooting was not determined immediately.

He said Hunter apparently was shot "six or seven times."

Hunter's wife, Myrtle, said she was preparing breakfast and her husband went out on the porch to lie down for a while. She said she heard shouting and shots. When she got to the door he was attempting to get in but collapsed and died on the porch.

Capt. Fitzgerald said Peasley was carrying a .22 caliber rifle when he surrendered.

Prisoner Found Dead

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Walter Vernon Winkler, 44, died Sunday from injuries inflicted upon him while he was in jail, Coroner Garret J. Boone reported yesterday. Dr. Boone said the injuries may have been inflicted by fellow prisoners. The incident points up, Dr. Boone said, the inadequacy of the county jail for the confinement of mentally or physically ill prisoners. Winkler had been awaiting transfer to Longview State Hospital, Cincinnati.

Plane Falters on Landing, Pilot Sends It Into Street, Saving 68

CHICAGO (AP) — Skillful piloting was credited with saving the lives of 68 persons in a Northwest Airlines plane accident late Friday.

The pilot, Capt. George A. Stone of Minneapolis, landed his big four-engine Stratocruiser on Midway Airport's northwest runway and noticed suddenly his propellers would not reverse to help slow the speed. He worked the brakes frantically, but their power was insufficient to halt the big plane.

Applies Rudder

"When I saw the rigid arrow markers, landing lights and gasoline stations at the corner of the field," Stone told a reporter, "I applied full left rudder."

The big plane veered from the runway, drove through a steel wire fence which served to partially stop it and rolled into the middle of Central Avenue, narrowly missing a car.

The 62 passengers and crew of six were evacuated quickly, some through emergency chutes extending from the plane. There was no fire, but the props threw great chunks of the fence in all directions, one piercing the left side of the plane just behind the cockpit.

Copilot Ralph Gray of Minneapolis credited Stone's actions with averting a possible major tragedy.

"He used up all the runway he could afford," Graves said, "and then turned us away from real trouble."

The plane, enroute from Minneapolis to Chicago, came to rest less than 100 yards from the spot where a Braniff airliner crashed July 17, killing 22 persons.

Motorists Shocked

It was a nerve-wracking experience for five persons in the car driven by George Meyers of Youngstown, Ohio, which was narrowly missed by the plane's roll onto Central Avenue. Two women from his car were taken to a hospital and treated for shock.

Meyers, a spot welder, was pale and shaken from the experience when he talked to a reporter. He said the huge plane bearing down on him through the high grass was frightening.

"All I could think of was to slam on the brakes," he said.

The plane came to rest about 20 feet in front of his bumper.

At 10 a.m., some 2,000 Japanese and 21 foreigners met in the public auditorium in the opening session of the leftist-organized three-day "world conference against atomic and hydrogen weapons."

The foreign ministry in Tokyo denied visas to a score of delegates from iron curtain countries who had wanted to attend.

During the memorial services, names of 523 Hiroshimans confirmed the past year as atomic bomb victims were added to 58,505 confirmed up to last year.

The only police count taken says 78,150 died from the bombing. City publications say the bomb cost from 240,000 to 260,000 lives, including outsiders and troops.

Survivor of Hiroshima Lays Wreath at Tomb

WASHINGTON (AP)—A survivor of the atomic bombing of Hiroshima 10 years ago, today laid a wreath at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery.

He prayed that under the "peerless leadership" of President Eisenhower "world disarmament may take place within our lifetimes."

When Rev. Kiyoshi Tanimoto, director of the Hiroshima Peace Center Associates completed the prayer, a U. S. Army bugler sounded taps as the wreath was placed on the tomb.

Restaurant Claims Pair Failed To Pay Food Bill

Report that two men had left without paying for their bill was made to city police early today by the L & K Restaurant on W. Center St.

A restaurant waitress told police two men ate there and left in their car without paying for a $3.62 bill. In leaving, the car struck a water cascade head there and damaged an island at the rear of the restaurant.

The incident occurred at 3:44 a.m. today.

Local Man Arrested

A Marion man was arrested Friday by city police on a charge of hauling garbage.

Pearl Eaton, 62, of 479 Grant St. was charged with hauling the garbage north on Davids St. to Columbia St.

Pupils of Dance Studio To Give Yearly Program

Pupils of the Martha Douce Studio will present their annual revue Wednesday evening in the Edison Junior High School. Approximately 80 pupils will take part in the program of tap dancing, ballet, acrobatic and baton twirling. They are from Marion, LaRue, Upper Sandusky and Caledonia. The program is titled "Club Manhattan."

Tickets may be obtained from the pupils or at the National City Bank or the auditorium on the evening of the performance.

Head of the studio, the former Miss Martha Douce, is Mrs. Joe Maniaci. Her studio is at 488 Girard Ave. An instructor of dancing and baton twirling, she studied at Baldwin-Wallace College and also studied with a number of outstanding New York instructors. She has won many trophies for her dancing and baton twirling, and also for outstanding work in teaching.

Miss Ohio

auburn-haired girl of 19 who sang "Love Is Where You Find It," won the second alternate prize of $200.

Winning $150 prizes were Sali Lyne of Cleveland, 20, selected as Miss Personality; and Shirley Joan Lay, 22, Mansfield, picked as Miss Talent. The latter played an accordion solo.

Other contestants were Joanne Doyle, 19, Painesville; Beverlee Boals, 18, one of Mansfield's two entries; Renee Self, 25, Dayton; Sally Jane Norman, 19, Akron; Gloria Maxwell, 18, Toledo; and Karen Korver, 18, Ashland.

The judging started yesterday morning, after breakfast, when the girls were interviewed and rated on personality and poise. Other parts of the judging included talent, appearance in evening gowns and appearance in swim suits. A parade through downtown Wooster was part of the day's activities.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche was to have witnessed the contest, but sent word that he was ill. Lt. Gov. John Brown was here, however, and in a moment of political acumen, announced that he was appointing all 11 candidates as "ambassadors of the office of lieutenant governor."

The judges, directed by Wayne County Probate Judge Myron T. Brenneman, included Lee Ann Merjwether, the current Miss America; Gloria Ann Daniels, Miss Florida of 1954; Donald C. Kleckner, chairman of the Bowling Green State University speech department; District Appeals Court Judge Oscar Hunsicker; and Cecil Munk, chairman of the Baldwin-Wallace College music department.

Policeman, Captive Injured in Scuffle

A Marion man was treated for injuries at Marion General Hospital today following a scuffle with a policeman who was arresting him on an intoxication charge.

John Paul Evans, 23, of 741 N. Main St. suffered a head cut and bruises when he resisted arrest on W. Center St. at 2 23 a.m. today.

Evans was arrested by Patrolman Lowell Titus who had noticed him and an unidentified man fighting in front of the Center Grill. Titus suffered a hand cut in the scuffle.

Man's Boasting Brings Journey to Hospital, Jail

A Marion man who boasted "he could lick the whole place" in a N. Main St. bar had a taker — as a result today he was nursing a head cut and was in jail on an intoxication charge.

Everette Harry James, 45, of 369 Milburn Ave. was arrested at 2:21 a.m. today in Sam's Night Club by city police. They reported James apparently suffered the cut when he was hit or when he fell after an unidentified man hit him a couple of times.

Southerners Threaten Integration Reprisals

COLQUITT, Ga. (AP)—Miller County commissioners have resolved to cut off school funds immediately if any suit is filed to force integration of the races and to set white deputies to patrolling the school grounds.

The resolution, adopted Friday, also urged all white farmers and businessmen in this south Georgia county to "emphasize to the members of the colored race the detrimental effect that any attempt at integration of the races could bring to them economically or otherwise."

Accidents Hurt Four in County; 2 Hospitalized

Patrol Lists 2 Injury Cases; 4 Mishaps Are Investigated by Police

Two persons are in "fair" condition at Marion General Hospital where they were admitted following accidents occurring Friday night and early this morning, and two other persons were treated and released. State highway patrolmen also investigated two other accidents in which one person was injured but was not treated.

Police reported four no-injury accidents, and the sheriff's office had no accidents to report.

Green Camp Man Hurt

A Green Camp man, Grover C. Bosart, 68, was admitted to Marion General Hospital following an accident which occurred at 6:45 a.m. today on Route 95 about one mile east of Claridon.

A westbound livestock truck driven by Bosart and loaded with six steers and one heifer bound for the Marion Livestock Yards left the road on the left side, tearing down guard railing, and went into a ditch and turned around to face east before coming to a stop.

Also damaged was farm fence owned by Robert Lautenslager. One steer was killed in the collision, and three others were injured.

Bosart was taken to the hospital in a Hughes ambulance for treatment of lacerations over the left eye, shoulder injury, and possible internal injuries.

Patrolmen were assisted by nearby residents in rounding up the cattle and penning them up. They were owned by Emerson Kramer of near Edison

Temporary guard railing is being installed by the state department of highways, patrolmen said.

Auto Overturns

Robert Siders, 23, of Delaware, a passenger in an automobile which went into a ditch and overturned after hitting a utility pole Friday night, sustained abrasions of the back and internal injuries.

The driver of the car, Raymond Eugene Jordan, 24, of Delaware, and the driver of the car with which they collided, Clair Stanley Carlyle, 22, of Prospect, were treated for minor injuries and released.

The accident occurred at 8:45 p.m. on Route 4 about two and one-half miles south of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad crossing as Jordan started passing Carlyle and struck his left rear fender and then lost control of his car. Both vehicles were northbound.

The injured were taken to the hospital in a Gunder ambulance. Slight damage resulted to Carlyle's car, while Jordan's car was extensively damaged. Jordan was arrested on a charge of unsafe operation, and is to appear next Friday in Municipal Court.

A six - year - old boy, David Brause of Sulphur Springs, sustained a bruised back, when a car driven by Dorothy Brause of Sulphur Springs was struck by another northbound car driven by Denver Ray Dolin, 38, of Bucyrus. Patrolmen said the Brause woman had slowed down to enable another car to make a left turn.

The accident occurred at 4:50 p.m. Friday on Route 98 about four and one-half miles north of Route 30-S. Moderate damage resulted to both vehicles. Dolin was arrested on a charge of failing to stop within an assured clear distance and is to appear next Saturday in Municipal Court.

Route 95 Crash

No one was injured in an accident which occurred at 1:23 p.m. Friday on Route 95 about seven miles east of Marion.

An eastbound car, driven by Florence B. Stumbo of 315 Hane Ave., had stopped to enable another car to make a left turn, when it was struck by another eastbound car driven by Paul D. Hildebrand, 59, of Mount Gilead. Moderate damage resulted to the Stumbo car.

Hildebrand was arrested on a charge of failing to stop within an assured clear distance and is to appear at a later date in Municipal Court.

Four Mishaps in City

Four minor no injury traffic accidents were investigated Friday and today by Marion police.

A utility pole was broken in an accident at Decatur and Van Buren Sts. at 6:15 a.m. today. Police reported William Keel, 25, of 291 Midlam Ave. fell asleep at the wheel of his car, knocking down a mailbox in front of 566 Decatur and breaking off the utility pole in front of 564 Decatur. The pole was owned by Ohio Edison Co.

A hit-skip accident was reported at 10:26 p.m. Friday to City Police. A car owned by Glen Chapman of 347 Silver St. and parked in front of his home was struck in the left rear fender by an unidentified vehicle.

A tractor-trailer outfit and a car were involved in a collision at W. Center and Prospect Sts. at 8:05 a.m. Friday. Police reported the tractor-trailer outfit owned by McMillen Feed Mills and driven by Hillis Brown, 44, of 650 S. Prospect St. and a car driven by William Daiber, 61, of near Marion, collided at the corner.

The only other accident resulted in less than $100 total damage, police estimated.

Uranium Hunt Moves to Area Near Hillsboro

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—The uranium fever that has hit Scioto and Ross counties in recent months has reached into Highland County and the resort of Seven Caves located between this village and Bainbridge on U.S. 50.

And Robert Judkins, owner-manager of the cave resort, reports he is having trouble with some Geiger counter - carrying sightseers.

Judkins says he does not object to their bringing the Geiger counters into the caves where some unusual activity has been reported, but he objects to the sightseers carrying away specimens of rock from caverns, cliffs and gorges.

One of the caves is particularly active for Geiger counters and Judkins reports that, while enthusiasm is registered by the would-be uranium hunters, he is not interested in seeing his caves become just another "hole in the ground."

Uranium ore finds have been reported in various sections nearby and the natural rock formations in the gorges and canyons apparently prove of interest to geologists.

Judkins says more and more uranium hunters put in their appearance as weeks pass, but that he is unimpressed by their reports. He says Seven Caves is going to remain a sightseeing resort as it has through the past 75 or more years.

Sebastian, had no idea that tragedy was close at hand.

"I never knew before that she had heart trouble," he said Friday. "But now that I look back, there were little things . . ."

One of those "little things" happened the night before her death, when the tiny, fiery Latin was rushing through a comedy-musical sequence for a television film with Jimmy Durante. At one point she dropped to one knee, out of breath.

"That's okay Carmy," said Durante, as cameras continued. "I'll take that line."

Entertains Cast

After the film was completed in time to beat a screen actors guild strike deadline, she entertained the cast at an impromptu party at her home. Then, after the last guest had gone home, she collapsed.

Miss Ball was already ill from the disease when she and Long became engaged. When they were married in Santa Barbara, Calif., in April, 1954 she walked down the aisle on an artificial limb. Later she starred in a movie and a live television show, and, with Long, played a song-and-dance act in nightclubs in Palm Springs, Calif., Tucson, Ariz., and her native Buffalo, N. Y.

He kept the recurrence of her disease a secret from her until three months ago. July 5 she was admitted to City of Hope Medical Center, where she stayed until doctors said she could go home last week.

She also is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Ball.

Miss Miranda, born in Portugal, got her start in the entertainment world in Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, at 17. Producer Lee Shubert brought her to this country, where her bare-midriff costumes and fruit salad headpieces—and a wild, hip-swinging samba—took her to stardom in films like "Down Argentine Way" and "Copacabana." In recent years she had concentrated mostly on television and nightclub work.

An NBC spokesman said no decision had been made on whether the filmed TV show with Durante would be telecast this fall.

Traffic Cases

One driver was fined $15 and costs in Marion Municipal Court Friday on a charge of crossing a yellow line. He was J. E. Boyer, 41, of Floral Park, N.Y.

A fine of $15 and costs on a charge of speeding against G. E. Miley, 20, of 715 E. Mark St. was suspended.

Bulganin Invites Envoys To His Country Estate

MOSCOW (AP) —Premier Nikolai Bulganin wants some international relaxing done at his country house.

He invited all ambassadors and chiefs of diplomatic missions in Moscow to take their wives and children to his dacha or country house for a day of swimming, lunch, and other recreation.

It was the first time such a broad invitation has been extended by the head of the Soviet government. However, invitations to the country places have been extended in the past to visiting notables individually and in small groups.

Woman Dies of Injuries

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Levie Legg, 79, of Quincy, died last night in Mary Rutan Hospital as a result of injuries received when the auto in which she was riding was struck several hours earlier by a New York Central freight train at Quincy.

Fire Damages Lima Company

Auto Agency Garage Burns, Loss $150,000

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin caused damage estimated by firemen at more than $150,000 last night and early today at the Folland Motor Co. here.

C. H. Folland, owner of the Mercury agency, said most of the company's equipment and spare parts were a total loss. Sixteen automobiles parked inside the building were damaged, but volunteers managed to remove eight new cars from an adjoining lot just before the garage roof caved in.

The two-alarm fire started at 11:40 p. m. and broke out again at 2:35 a. m. Huge pillars of smoke rising 100 feet in the air attracted hundreds of persons to the scene. Two firemen suffered minor cuts in fighting the blaze.

Conservancy Area, County Treasurers Sued by Taxpayers

Suit against the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District and the treasurers of nine Ohio counties including Marion County, was filed in Franklin County Common Pleas Court yesterday, The Associated Press reported.

The suit, filed by attorneys for the Apartment Buildings, Inc., of Columbus, as taxpayers, asked the court to order the treasurers to refund money collected in taxes for the district.

A temporary restraining order "freezing" the funds until the case can be brought to court was signed by Common Pleas Judge Dana F. Reynolds.

Named in the suit were the treasurers of Scioto, Vinton, Pike, Crawford, Wyandot, Sandusky, Ross, Pickaway and Marion counties.

Allens maintain a summer home was discounted as having any bearing on the case.

Pond said that judging from the condition of Mrs. Allen's blood-stained clothing found stuffed in the trunk of her abandoned car the garments had not been dragged on the ground.

Car Found at Station

Her car was found early Friday in a parking area near the Union Station here. Pond said blood found in and on the car was believed about three to six hours old.

There were about 68 miles registered on the speedometer of the car that cannot be accounted for by Allen or others in the family.

Mrs. Allen's children told officers when their mother drove away Thursday to keep an 11 a.m. appointment with a hairdresser the top on her convertible car was down. When found the top was up and the rear flap closed.

Police said missing articles of Mrs. Allen's clothing include a scarf, metal head clasp and silk hose.

She was believed to be carrying about $25 at the time of her disappearance.

Crash

Also hospitalized and in serious condition were the occupants of the truck, Homer North, 19, and Basil Warden, 18, the driver, both of Cambridge.

On Weekend Pass.

Miller told a newsman that the five were on a weekend pass to the Johnstown, Pa., area. He said they all did maintenance work at Lockbourne.

Jerry Stokes, a student at Muskingum College in Zanesville and an attendant at a nearby gas station, said he saw the accident occur while both vehicles were traveling east. He told a newsman that Warden was thrown approximately 60 feet by the force of the impact, but that he quickly regained his feet and used the truck's fire extinguisher to put out a blaze in the auto.

State highway patrol headquarters here said preliminary investigation disclosed the truck was having some sort of mechanical trouble at the time of the accident.

Washington Halts Indian Rally To Win 7-5; Chicago Beaten; Yanks Victorious

FOOTBALL STAR GETS ARMY PHYSICAL. J. C. Caroline, who set Big Ten rushing record with Illinois, gets army physical at Chicago. The halfback from Columbia, S. C., with nothing but initials for a "first name," waits while Dr. A. W. Adelman peeks into his ear. Caroline is taking summer school courses at Illinois.

Tribe, Bombers Tied Two Points Back of White Sox

By The Associated Press

Baltimore and Washington, reluctant tailenders, have made the American League race as tight as a cork in a bottle.

The Orioles and Senators, supposedly the soft touches who were to give Chicago and Cleveland the edge on their Eastern swing sent the first place brawl into a virtual three-way tie Friday night.

Baltimore topped the White Sox 2-1 in 11 innings and Washington rapped the Indians 7-5 while New York moved up from third place with a 3-0 decision over Detroit on Yogi Berra's 200th home run.

And while the last place Orioles and seventh place Nats were having a ball, sixth place Kansas City knocked off fourth place Boston 5-2.

Sox Still Lead

The White Sox still hold the lead, but by a mere two percentage points over the Yanks and Indians. Boston is two games away in the standings.

Chicago errors figured in both Baltimore runs, with the clincher coming home as reliefer Millard Howell muffed Willie Miranda's slow roller with the bases loaded. Until the last of the 11th, it had been a pitching duel between Jim Wilson, poison for the first division, and ex-Oriole Harry Byrd.

The Sox had the bases loaded with none out in the 10th, but Wilson, who gave up the Chicago run in the first inning, worked out of it with a double-play and George Kell's infield out.

The Washington Nationals ruined Sal Maglie's debut with the Cleveland Indians last night, and kept the Indians from taking over first place in the American League.

Stop Rally

The Nationals stopped a ninth-inning Cleveland rally and won 7-5, for their eighth victory in 15 games with the Indians this season. Last year Washington was a pushover for the pennant-winning Indians.

Manager Al Lopez calls on righthander Art Houtteman (8-4) today. Houtteman's latest outing was a six hit 6-0 shutout over Baltimore.

Errors Hurt

Maglie, acquired this week from the New York Giants, gave up five runs, three of them earned, in the first two innings. Al Smith and Bob Avila both dropped fly balls in the first inning to add to Maglie's woes. But Smith picked up the one Avila dropped and threw a runner out at second to save Avila from being charged with an error.

An error by Al Rosen contributed to two more Washington runs in the fourth off reliefer Jose Santiago.

Dean Stone, who posted his third straight victory over the Indians, shut them out on four hits until the ninth. The Indians broke loose for five runs on five hits, but the rally fell short when Larry Doby was thrown out trying to stretch a single. Doby would have been the tying run.

Berra's 200th

Berra, joining Bill Dickey, Gabby Hartnett and Roy Campanella as the only catchers ever to slug 200 or more homers in the major leagues belted a 3-1 pitch in the fourth inning after Tiger rookie Jim Bunning had issued his only two walks. Don Larsen, winning his second since coming back from the minors, had some wobbly moments but fanned pinchhitter Jack Phillips to end it with two men on base in the 9th.

Moments earlier, Hank Bauer had stretched into the right field stands to rob Frank House of a two-run homer.

Kansas City snarled the Red Sox with Gus Zernial's two home runs and a double and the relief work of Tom Gorman. The righthander saved Vic Raschi's fourth victory by allowing just one run after coming on in the eighth with ... bases loaded and none out. Frank Sullivan, Boston's 14-game winner, lost his ninth.

Cubs Beat Dodgers

In the National League, Brooklyn lost to Chicago 10-8, but held its 15½ games spread as Pittsburgh bumped Milwaukee 8-5. New York beat Cincinnati 12-9 and Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 7-4.

Ernie Banks clubbed his 37th home run for the Cubs, but Duke Snider smacked two for the Brooks to regain the undisputed homer lead with 38. The two clubs combined for seven home runs.

Pittsburgh blasted Warren Spahn for five runs in the first inning and ex-outfielder Dick Hall held the Braves in check until Lino Donoso had to put down a four-run rally in the eighth.

The Giants had four three-run spurts, then had to hold off the Redlegs in a four-run ninth. Wayne Terwilliger, New York second baseman, was hit over the left eye by one of Johnny Klippstein's pitches and was taken to a hospital for observation.

Four walks and an error gave the Phils a three-run seventh to beat the Cards. Bobby Morgan and Del Ennis homered for the Phillies.

Local 750 Edges Upper Nine for Tourney Victory

Local 750 UAW remained in the running for district tournament honors last night at Gorman-Rupp Field in Mansfield.

It edged Bud's Sport Shop of Upper Sandusky 6-5 in the third one-run decision of the night.

Local 750 was forced to come from behind twice to post its second straight tournament victory.

The losers nicked Harold Belt of Local 750 for a first inning run but the winners struck back with three in the fourth. Bud's again took the lead with four markers in the fifth but Local 750 won it with three in the bottom of the same frame.

Belt held Bud's to six hits but three of them were homers. He struck out seven and walked three. Henry Fredritz opened on the hill for Bud's and was relieved by Jim Fredritz in the fifth. They gave up eight hits to Local 750.

Darnell, Mosier and Johnson all cracked out two hits apiece for Local 750. Bob Saull, Ray Smalley and Harry Dillon cracked out the Bud home runs.

Following last night's play, 11 teams of the starting field of 23 remain. Marion's other two entries see first tournament action tonight. Erie, Industrial League No. 1 leaders, meet Tappan Stove of Mansfield in the second game at 7:45 p.m. Mac's Trading Post, pace-setters in the Commercial League, take on Danville Merchants in the nightcap carded for 9 p.m.

FOP Wallops Indians in Teen League Battle

Marion's Fraternal Order of Police nine remained at the top of the Marion County Teen League heap by walloping its closest pursuer, the Marion Indians, 15-2 at Lincoln Park last night.

STANDINGS
Fraternal Order of Police	12	2	.857
Marion Indians	11	3	.786
Marion Elks	10	3	.769
Pleasant	8	5	.615
Prospect	9	6	.600
Green Camp	7	7	.500

LaRue	1	13	.071

Butch Simpson held the Indians in check on one hit — a two-out single by Middleton in the final frame — as his teammates banged out nine off two Indian hurlers.

The winners clinched the game with four runs in the first frame on two hits off starter Harold Jones. Three more crossed the plate in the second on three hits; four were tallied in the fourth on one hit, and four more came in on three hits in the sixth.

Simpson, touched for a run in the second on no hits and the final tally in the seventh, fanned 14 while walking 12.

Jones and Ambrose, who took over for the former in the fifth, struck out 10, walked 10 and hit three batters.

Jim Anspaugh and Tic Gruber both had three hits for the winners. Tex Burns cracked out two and Eddie Kurz connected for a triple.

Five Richwood Drivers Place High in Races

RICHWOOD — Richwood drivers dominated the events Friday at the Richwood Speedway. All first five drivers in the feature event were from Richwood.

Joe Erwin took the feature, J.L. Jones was second; John Coder placed third, Church Wilcox was fourth; and Ed Hendrickson came in fifth.

Four of the five were also winners of earlier races in the evening. Erwin took the winners' handicap by beating Wilcox and Coder. Jones was the winner in the consolation race, placing ahead of Jim Reece and Carlton Hecker.

In the first heat, Coder won, with Dan Frost second and Jack Hines third. Hendrickson took the second heat, placing ahead of Clyde Looney and Clayton Rogers. Erwin was the third heat winner besting Wilcox and Dick Britton.

Browns Close Scrimmages as Two Backs Star

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns yesterday went through their final practice scrimmage before next Friday's game with the college all stars, and Coach Paul Brown reported he was mighty pleased with the performance of fullback Maurice Bassett and rookie halfback Bob Green.

Green, who starred in track as well as football for Allen University, scored a touchdown with a burst through the line. Coach Brown said later:

"We took a look today to see how he'd run inside and were satisfied. He has a lot to learn but he has speed and likes the contact. he certainly is going to be a factor."

Bassett carried the ball over for one touchdown on a short run and figured in a similar scoring run by right halfback Dub Jones.

Auto Races Set At Local Track

Stock car races will be run at the Marion Speedway Sunday under the sponsorship of the Marion Stock Car Club.

Gates at the local track will open at 1 p.m. First race is scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. There will be three heat races, two consolation events, a winners' handicap and a 25-lap feature.

The short track will be oiled Saturday and should be dust-free for Sunday's events. Drivers from Upper Sandusky, Bucyrus, Galion, Kenton, Richwood and Marion will be gunning for their share of the prize money.

The Speedway is located five miles north of Marion just off Route 23.

Anyone interested in joining the local stock car club is asked to contact Robert or John Fridley at 277 Patten St.

Toledo Beaten By Millers 5-2

By The Associated Press

Denver and Minneapolis used home run power last night to fashion victories and stay in a virtual deadlock atop the American Association standings. Minneapolis downed third place Toledo 5-2 and Denver romped over Indianapolis 8-3.

Fourth place Omaha stayed 2½ games behind the leaders when they rallied in the ninth for a 3-1 victory over Louisville, and St. Paul trampled last place Charleston 7-2.

The action left Minneapolis in front with a .567 percentage mark. Denver is a single point behind, ahead of four other closely bunched teams. Sixth place St. Paul is playing at a .508 clip. Only Indianapolis and Charleston, 17 and 31½ games out respectively, are out of the torrid race.

Fair Racing Ends Tonight

Crawford Feature Victor Is Bucyrus-Owned Horse

BUCYRUS — Top Deck, owned by the Club Acres Stable of Bucyrus, won the free for all purse, the featured race in the second evening of harness racing at the Crawford County Fair here last night.

The chestnut horse, piloted by Bob Vallery, swept to easy wins in both heats of the $750 event. He led all the way in both heats and was out in front by about five lengths in taking the first heat. Partners in the Bucyrus stable are Fred Meyers, Harold Hunter and Ralph Karg, all of Bucyrus.

Carley Jayzoff, a bay gelding, piloted and owned by Lester L. Gregg of Ashland, was race winner in the 16 trot. The Ashland entry finished second in the first heat and captured the second heat. The race carried a $600 purse.

Howard Fuller's Timber, a brown gelding, from Centerburg took both heats of the 22 trot with Kathy Jo, driven by Bob Cheney and owned by Clyde Rogers, Richwood, finishing in runner-up position in both heats.

Because of the large number of entries the 22 pace was broken down into two divisions. The first division race winner was Sally's Brookdale, owned by Frank Clevenger of Richwood with Bob Cheney in the sulky. Sally's Brookdale took the second heat after finishing second in the opening dash.

Handsome Grattan, owned by Paul Evarts of Galena and driven by L. DeBolt, captured both heats of the second division of the 22 pace.

Another 10-heat card is scheduled for the final program tonight. The events include two divisions of the 25 pace, a 20 trot, 20 pace and 25 trot

The second evening of racing drew another capacity crowd and track officials were hopeful that tonight's closing program would result in another capacity grandstand crowd.

Trophies last night were furnished by Groh Motor Sales, Home Furniture, Cheney Motor Sales and First National Bank, all of Crestline, and Paul Hildebrand, Bucyrus, superintendent of speed.

A complete summary follows:

Slo-Mo-Shun V Driver Injured As Boat Flips

SEATTLE (AP)—A complete backflip by the Slo-Mo-Shun V after it "took off" from the water traveling around 160 miles an hour took the defending champion completely out of this year's Gold Cup picture Friday and probably ended the racing career of Lou Fageol, daredevil driver.

A squabble among the drivers over the issue of "flying starts," also threatened to cut the field for Sunday's "World Series of Racing" drastically. Ten boats had qualified by nightfall Friday night.

Fageol, of Kent, Ohio, dove from his somersaulting hydroplane to escape death, but he suffered probable broken ribs and a punctured lung, as well as back injuries.

Thousands of spectators and officials watching Fageol's qualifying attempt from the shore and additional thousands watching in via television witnessed the spectacular Slo-Mo V accident.

Fageol was roaring down the back straightaway toward completion of his third and final qualifying lap when disaster overtook the V.

The sleek craft started rocking from side to side as a northerly wind caught under the sponsons. Then the bow started to lift, almost imperceptibly.

Then the wind whipped under the boat in force and the bow started a rapid rise until only the propellor of the craft remained in the water.

As Fageol fought for control, the Slo-Mo V lifted completely out of the water, literally taking off as a plane would.

Her stern kicked forward and the boat took a complete back somersault, landing upright on the water again.

Fageol kicked himself from the cockpit of the boat and landed on his back on the water and struggled feebly as a coast guard boat rushed to rescue him.

Up until the accident Fageol had rammed the V two and three-quarter lengths around the Gold Cup course at an average speed of approximately 117 miles per hour.

In his hospital room, Fageol answered his wife's query of "Honey, don't you think you've had enough racing with:

"You're right. I guess I've had it."

Columbus Jets Beaten 9-6 by Richmond Club

By The Associated Press

Richmond still has a chance to climb out of the International League cellar. If they make it, a major share of the credit must go to Lou Ortiz.

The second sacker's pair of home runs led the Virginians to a 9-6 triumph over Columbus last night. He has sparked the usually tranquil Richmond offense with a late season drive that has brought him over the .330 mark in batting.

Although he has appeared in but 58 of the Virginians 118 games, he is the team leader in runs batted in and is tied with Ken Wood for home runs with 11.

The victory, combined with Buffalo's 4-1 loss to Rochester, left the Vees three and a half games behind the seventh place Bisons.

Havana's 11 game streak came to an end when Thornton Kipper of Syracuse shut the Cubans out after they had pounced on Jim Owens for five runs with none out in the first. The Chiefs won 9-5.

Toronto and Montreal, one and two in the standings, were rained out and will play a doubleheader tonight.

Red Sox Winning Surge in AL Race Called Team Effort by Fans, Manager

By JOE REICHLER

BOSTON (AP) —"Wanna know what makes the Red Sox run?" the fellow said. "Here is it. Ted Williams is the detonator. . . Billy Klaus is the spirit. . . and Mike Higgins is the steering wheel."

"There's no doubt that Ted and Billy have had a lot to do with our success," said Manager Higgins, ignoring reference to himself, "but it's been more than that. If ever I saw a team effort, this is it.

Pitchers Praised, Too

"But what about Billy Goodman and Jackie Jensen and Jimmy Piersall and Grady Hatton and Sammy White and Norm Zauchin? And don't forget our pitchers. They've done a wonderful job.

"One day it is Jensen who delivers the big hit, another day it is White. This time it will be Williams, next time Piersall or Goodman or Hatton or Klaus or Zauchin.

"Not enough credit can be given to Frank Sullivan, Tom Brewer, Willard Nixon, George Susce, all young pitchers, or our bullpen of Ellis Kinder, Tom Hurd and Leo Kiely. You can come up with fellows like Faye Throneberry and Gene Stephens and remember their contributions."

Although Higgins refused to take any credit for the molding of a second division team into a strong pennant contender, there were others who insisted Mike deserved the credit.

'He's a Wonder'

"That guy is a wonder," said Dave (Boo) Ferris, the Red Sox pitching coach. "I don't know of anybody who can instill more confidence in a player, especially youngsters. He's a superb handler of pitchers. He's the calmest man I ever saw. He never has embarrassed a player to my knowledge He has the utmost faith in his men."

How do the players regard Higgins?

"I was hitting about .197 back in May," said Piersall. "I went to Higgins and asked him if there was something I should do. He said: 'You hit .275 last year and you'll get your hits again. Just keep in there. I got confidence in you.' A guy has to be a dope to give up on himself with a guy like that in his corner."

'Built Us Up'

Said pitcher Sullivan: "He built us into a winning ball club. Mike gives us the feeling he knows we're big leaguers. There is no feeling of insecurity with Higgins around."

The greatest exhibition of patience by Higgins was in keeping Brewer as a starting pitcher. Brewer failed to win in his first eight starts.

"He'll get going," Higgins said after the eighth straight failure. Today Brewer's record stands at 8-9.

On June 4, Goodman and Piersall were hitting .220, Hatton .194, White .259, Jensen .258. Higgins refused to bench them. Today, Goodman is flirting with .300, and the others have boosted their marks by at least 20 points.

"I put my strongest lineup in the field and try to keep it together as long as possible," explained Higgins.

"Everything I know about managing I learned in eight years in the minors. I simply try to treat my players as men. I was a player, too, and I try to treat them the way I wanted to be treated."

ARTISTS TO PERFORM

Garnet Moore, Irish tenor, Margaret Ann Romine, pianist and Jimmie Beverly, clarinetist, will be heard on the Marion Entertains program Sunday at 1 p.m. over WMRN. The program is produced and directed by Griselda Davis Dombaugh.

College All-Stars Win in Scrimmage

CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars received their first taste of professional football Friday and quite well.

They whipped the Chicago Cardinals, 9-6, in an exhibition scrimmage with Notre Dame's Ralph Guglielmi passing for a touchdown and Ohio State's Tad Weed kicking a game winning field goal in the final quarter.

No extra points, punts or kickoffs were used in the scrimmage.

The Cardinals scored in the second period on a quarterback sneak by LaMar McHan.

The All-Stars meet the Cleveland Browns at Soldier Field next Friday night.

Post Smacks 27th Homer, Reds Beaten

CINCINNATI (AP)—The New York Giants used the mighty single and walks and errors to blast the Cincinnati Redlegs, 12-9, last night before a crowd of 22,034.

The Giants slugged 17 hits, only two for extra bases, off six Red pitchers. The Reds added 14 hits to their batting averages, including home runs by Wally Post, his 27th, Bob Thurman and Milt Smith.

New York tallied three times in the opening inning on four singles and two walks and three times in the second on two singles, a walk, two errors and one of two passed balls that got by Smoky Burgess in the three hour and 15 minute contest.

They scored another trio in the sixth on three singles, Dusty Rhodes' double and one base on balls. Catcher Ray Katt homered in the last three New York runs in the eighth.

The Reds tallied single runs in the third and fifth and then went after winner Jim Hearn for three in the sixth on Ted Kluszewski's single and consecutive homers by Thurman and Smith. Johnny Temple singled and Burgess was walked with one out in the ninth. Klu singled home Temple and Post hit the first pitch over the left field wall to bring the Reds within range of the Giants Don Liddle walked Gus Bell Then Johnny Antonelli was sent in to squelch the uprising. He did.

Hearn's victory was his 12th in 22 decisions. Joe Black, the ineffective starter, was tagged with the defeat. Johnny Klippstein relieved in the first inning and stayed until the fourth He was followed by Gerry Staley, Rudy Minarcin, Hershell Freeman, Jackie Collum and Don Gross.

Two Philadelphia Boys Charged With Murder

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Murder indictments against a pair of 12-year-old boys were handed down Friday by the August grand jury in a case involving the drowning of two other lads.

Theodore Armpriester and Joseph Ryan are charged with both involuntary and voluntary manslaughter in the deaths of Ellis Palmer, 10, and Adolph Sincavage, 13.

Investigating officers said Armpriester pushed the victims, who had been fishing, into the Schuylkill River last July 1 and then stole their bicycles. The Armpriester boy was accused of conceiving and executing the plot. Ryan was said to have been dominated and influenced by his companion.

Mother of 2 Killed

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Daisy Lou Eitniear, 20-year-old Defiance mother of two, was injured fatally last night in a one-car accident on Ohio 15, the state highway patrol reported. The car went out of control and left the road during a rainstorm, the patrol said.

Airman Killed in Crash

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Staff Sergeant Charles Joseph Clim, 25, was killed early today when the car he was driving left Ohio 158, six miles north of here. The state highway patrol said Clim was stationed at Lockbourne AFB, Columbus.

Australian Has Tam O'Shanter 2-Stroke Lead

CHICAGO (AP) — Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, wanted to slice his spoon tee shot—something duffers try to avoid—but it went straight.

It cost him a chance to break Tam O'Shanter's course record of 63 Friday and the $10,000 prize offered for doing it.

But Thomson, 25, sailed in with a 65 and a 36-hole tally of 136—8 under par. He held a two-stroke lead over Al Mengert and the new PGA national champion, Doug Ford, at the halfway mark in the $25,000 All-American golf tourney.

Thomson came up to the 16th hole Friday needing two birdies and a par to post a 62 and take the $10,000 prize. His putt on the 215-yard 16th rimmed the cup and he parred in 3.

All his chances vanished on the 375-yard 17th.

From the tee, he needed a slice on a spoon shot to come into the fairway through tree branches fronting the tee. He hit a straight spoon, instead and the ball wound up in the deep rough near a cluster of pines.

His second shot — a gamble to carry a trap in the front of the green—landed in the sand. He blasted out seven feet away and missed a slight downhill putt to take a one-over-par 5.

"It was a gamble I just failed, that's all," Thomson said

Frank Stranahan of Toledo had a 73-72—145, and Earl Christiansen of Athens, Ohio, 75-74—149.

Girl Slips Aboard Canadian Warship Heading for States

HILO, Hawaii (AP)—Police today reported a new element in the story of an attractive 16-year-old girl who slipped aboard the Canadian destroyer Athabaskan and is cruising to Long Beach, Calif., with 150 men.

Joycelin Joan Pilapil, 5-foot-5 high school senior of Portuguese-Filipino blood, left a farewell note for her parents in Papaaloa about July 28.

"Folks, I can't stay here any longer so I'm going away with Bill," it read "So don't worry."

Police reported this postscript:

"Bill wants to take care of me and the baby, so let us do it together."

Joycelin's mother, Mrs. Fremlin Pilapil, said she didn't know Bill except that he "worked on one of the ships someplace."

In Ottawa, a spokesman for the Royal Canadian Navy said the girl slipped aboard during an open house function. She was discovered in a stern compartment when the destroyer was at sea with her sister ship, the Cayuga.

"As far as we know no member of the crew of the Athabaskan assisted the girl to conceal herself aboard the ship," the spokesman said. He reported she was placed in "suitable accommodations" and would be turned over to U. S. officials Sunday at Long Beach

He expressed belief that Joycelin is the first stowaway aboard a Canadian warship

10 U.S. Soldiers Die in Flaming Crash of Truck

SEOUL (AP) — Ten U. S. soldiers of the 24th Division were killed and 10 were injured, one so critically he may die, in the flaming crash today of an army truck taking them to an airport.

"One more is expected to die," an Army source said. Two of the injured were reported in critical condition and four others seriously injured with burns, cuts and broken legs suffered in the fiery accident.

Names were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Light-heartedly anticipating a period of rest and recreation leave in Japan, the soldiers had piled their baggage into the big truck and were heading for Kimpo Air Base, 15 miles northwest of Seoul.

Suddenly the truck plunged through the railing of a narrow bridge and overturned. It landed in a small stream and caught fire. Some of the soldiers, pinned down by the truck, apparently burned to death.

Eight died at the scene of the accident. One more died on the way to the hospital and a 10th at the hospital

One man escaped injury. He was believed to be the driver.

Son of Famed Detective Held In Slaying of 2

LONDON (AP)—The schoolmaster son of Scotland Yards late chief detective superintendent was charged today with murdering his pretty blonde wife and baby daughter.

Frederick James Chapman, about 40, was formally booked for a court hearing after hours of questioning

Chapman's father was chief of Scotland Yard's famed murder squad until his death two weeks ago.

The victims were Mrs Irene Chapman, 30, and her baby girl, Irene. Questioned was J. J. Chapman, about 40, son of William Chapman.

Scotland yard said the younger Chapman, who teaches at a school in the fashionable suburb of Orpington, had called personally Friday night at a police station in Brighton, 50 miles south of London. His story led police to break into the Chapman's new white bungalow at Orpington, where the bodies of the mother and baby were found. No details of his story were disclosed.

The bodies of Mrs. Chapman and Irene were in the bungalow's blood-spattered bathroom. A senior investigator said "each received head injuries." A preliminary medical examination showed both victims had been dead only a few hours. The mother was leaning over the baby as if to protect her.

Police found a blood-stained hammer and fireplace poker at the scene.

Mountain Climbing In Europe Claims 109 Lives to Date

ROME (AP) —Mountain climbing has claimed at least 109 lives in western Europe this year with the season just past the halfway mark.

The toll at this time last year was 123. Then the conquest of Mt. Everest still was fresh in the public mind and more amateurs were trying to scale the Alps.

A survey today showed this country-by-country death toll in 1955:

France — 31 dead, 13 injured.
Austria — 30 dead, two missing and presumed dead.
West Germany — 17 dead.
Switzerland — 13 dead.
Italy — 18 dead.

Most of the casualties have been amateur climbers.

France's Faure Outlines Bright Economic Picture

PARIS (AP)—A bright French economic picture was outlined Friday night by Premier Edgar Faure.

He told the National Assembly the nation's living standard will be double in 10 years if economic progress continues at the present rate. Faure said production increased 10.5 per cent from June, 1954, to June 1955, and that national income would increase this year by 700 billion francs (2 billion dollars).

Detroit Driver Killed

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — John Warren, 52, of Detroit, was killed early today when a tire blew out on the car in which he was riding. The car struck a guard rail about seven miles south of here on U.S. 23.

He was returning to Detroit from North Carolina with his half brother, Robert L. Terlor, 61, Detroit, who was not injured in the crash.

Painting House Is Not Difficult With Good Plan

'Bite-Size' Areas Can Make the Undertaking A Simple Procedure

Until we learned how to do hings ourselves, most of us thought that painting a house was something like painting an elephant — too big to tackle. But now we've learned that painting a house is like eating a steak. When you divide the whole thing into bite-size sections, the undertaking is simple.

If your house is overly large or terrifyingly tall, you may still feel hesitant. If this is the case, you'll be interested to know that it's usually possible to find a painting contractor who will take the "high road" while you take the 'low one." Such cooperative contractors will give you pointers on procedure while you work as a member of the team.

To begin with, it's important to check over all exterior areas of your house to see where repair work is needed. Boards may have rotted and should be replaced Peeling paint is a warning that destructive moisture has forced an entrance. Its source needs to be traced so the devilment may be stopped. Rusted metal also needs careful attention. All rust must be taken off with sandpaper, steel wool or wire brush.

Prime Surface

Where new wood is added, or old coatings are completely removed, the surface must be primed. Nail head indentations should then be leveled with putty. Where rust is removed, the bare metal should be coated with a primer devised for the purpose.

It goes without saying that all rough areas should be sanded smooth and that all cracks should be filled with ither putty or calking compound. Loose dirt should also be whisked off with a dusting brush.

After your surface preparation is complete, it's highly important to round up all the tools and materials you'll need so you'll have them within reach, once you begin the actual painting. Check to see that you have stirring paddles, solvent for cleaning brushes, wiping rags, drop cloths to protect the shrubbery, strainers if the paint has been previously opened, a paint can opener, necessary ladders and brushes of the proper sizes. For siding, you'll need a 4-inch brush; for trim, a 2- or 3-inch one and, for window sash, one of the brushes designed for the purpose.

On upper sections of the house where a ladder is needed, paint the trim before you paint the body of the house. In this way you'll avoid marring newly painted areas with the top of your ladder. When you're working near the ground, however, you can reverse the procedure, if you wish, and paint the trim last.

Painting Technique

A favored way of painting the iding on a clapboard house is to aint, first, the under edge of the board where it overlaps its adjoining neighbor. Next, with a full brush, unload spots of paint along a single width of siding within the area in which you are painting. These spots should be quite close together. Finally, draw your brush through the spots, merging the paint and completely covering he board with the fresh coating.

The best time to paint a house is during a dry spell when the humidity's low. Don't start in the morning until the dew has dried from the surface. then follow the shade, if possible. When painting he side of a house, start at the highest point and apply paint in horizontal strips about three feet wide. Never stop in the middle of a strip for any great length of time.

You'll have fun with your painting. Furthermore, you'll enjoy the fruits of your industry for a long time to come. Your newly painted house will delight your eye and renew your pride in your home. The new coat of paint will also give you the satisfaction of knowing that it's standing guard over the important investment your home represents.

Bellefontaine Ave. House Purchased

THIS RANCH-TYPE HOME at 449 Bellefontaine Ave. was recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Newell T. Minard of 302½ W. Center St. from Mr. and Mrs. Russell Prater. The three-bedroom home features electric heat and is in the $14,500 price class. Clifford E. Hoch of Hoch Real Estate Agency represented both parties in the transaction.

Workshop Can Be Source of Garden Props

In the garden, too, there's opportunity for easing the tasks and adding man-made beauty through a visit to the lumber yard.

As a background for flowers, especially when there's an unsightly garage or other object to spoil the view, gardeners are turning to "peg - board" panels. Framed, anchored and painted, these sturdy boards of many holes hide ugly backgrounds. They can serve, too, as trellis for climbing flowers

Another way to beautify the premises is to hide the garbage can behind a similar screen of this perforated hardboard, which in this case definitely could be used as a backdrop for morning glories, for example.

The garden's natural beauty can be enhanced by an occasional cutout figure made of pressed wood. Cut from a pattern or magazine, the figure may be primed and painted in bright colors, mounted on a stick and made a part of the garden scene. A clever "keep off the grass" sign can be made in the form of a policeman His star can bear the word, "Stop!"

Every gardener has or needs a tool house. An easy - to - build, nicely-styled house can be made of a durable hardboard.

For the working surface of their gardening workbenches, the folks of the green thumb prefer the hardboard because of its resistance to moisture, and smoothness. It has no splinters. It'll last for years, too. Recently an earthen dam backed by this material was checked after 18 years and found to be in excellent condition.

REMOVE WAX FIRST

Never try to paint over a surface that you know or suspect has wax on it. First remove all traces of wax with turpentine or one of the products prepared especially for the purpose.

Building Permits

Eleven building permits with total valuation of $206,900 were issued at the Marion City Clerk's office in the week from July 29 through August 4. This was considerably above the totals for the same period last year when six permits for $31,595 were issued. The permits were:

New Construction

G and G Builders, Inc., 29 houses, some completed, some under construction and some still to be started on Daffodil Drive and Lilac Lane, $203,000.

William Byles, Underwood and Merkle Aves., house, $500.

Louis and Mildred Cregg, 418 Jefferson St., bathroom, $800.

Harley and Rosemary Mooney, 394 Chester St., porch, $100.

Bert and Melba Osborne Jr., 737 Blaine Ave., porch, $125.

James and Tressie Payne, 425 Milburn Ave., enclose porch, $300.

N. F. St. John, 316 Powhattan St., garage, $500.

Clarence Smith, 217 Franconia Ave., garage, $200.

Harold White, 743 Lilac Lane, garage, $250.

PROTECTIVE COATING

The new cold wave permanents —while wonderful for your hair —can be tough on bobby pins. Special coatings are applied to the pins to prevent the chemicals used in giving permanents from reacting with the metal and causing streaks in the hair. The versatile paint, varnish and lacquer industry is an old hand at solving such problems. It provdies protective coatings for everything from bobby pins to battleships.

Tribes near Africa's Lake Kyoga just north of the Equator eat roasted locusts. Termites are another favorite food.

4 Basic Plans Are Possible In Kitchen Use

Variations Can Give Room Individual Look And Neat Appearance

There are four basic patterns for kitchen floor plans and regardless of the one you select, steel kitchen cabinets can be fitted efficiently and economically into the layout

Variations of all types can be found, of course, because of the architectural limitations of some homes, but the four primary kitchen plans are the U, L, one-wall or I, and parallel-wall or corridor layouts.

The U-shape kitchen arranges the major appliances, storage, and work surfaces along three walls, the L-shape plan along just two adjacent walls. In either case, a continuous alignment of range-counter - sink - counter-refrigerator normally is utilized with wall cabinets coordinated above to provide suffcient counter and storage space for each of the kitchen work centers.

All equipment is lined up along one wall, as the name implies, in the one-wall or I-shape kitchen, while cabinets, appliances, and sink are on opposite walls in the corridor or parallel wall arrangement. Irregular kitchens, in which wall or floor space is broken into odd lengths by doors and windows, require variations of these four basic kitchen plans.

Most Efficient

The U and L-shape kitchens are the most efficient and convenient layouts, home designers say, because they bring the range, refrigerator, and sink work centers closer together in conjunction with storage units.

In any of these kitchen stylings, however, it is possible to attain an attractive and practical combination of storage facilities and appliances by using steel cabinets because of the tremendous variety of ready-tailored sizes and styles of such cabinets.

Steel cabinets have been standardized in three-inch multiples to make combinations possible for almost all wall and floor spaces. In addition, some steel cabinet manufacturers will design custom-built units to exact measurement if desired.

The sink area, of course should be the pivot around which the rest of the kitchen equipment is grouped. Steel undersink cabinets are fashioned to match sinks ranging from 15 to 96 inches wide and modular-styled steel base and wall cabinets enable easy layout of the remainder of the kitchen.

Variety of Sizes

Base cabinets are fashioned in widths from 9 to 42 inches, for example, and wall cabinets in widths from 12 to 66 inches. In addition, wall cabinet heights vary from 15 to 36 inches so even the wall space above refrigerator, sink, and range can be utilized with the shorter units if you wish.

A multitude of door, drawer, and shelf arrangements gives complete flexibility to steel cabinet storage space, too, and there are special-purpose cabinets for giving your kitchen individuality and efficiency.

Intriguing corner cabinets equipped with rotary shelves, for instance, give complete accessibility to corner space in U and L - shape kitchens. Curved-door quarter-round cabinets and rounded, open-shelf units offer decorative as well as space utilization advantages at the end of a row of base or wall cabinets.

It's just a matter of planning the layout to fit your kitchen's dimensions, then selecting the steel cabinets that carry out your plan, and the wide variety of steel cabinet styles permits a selection to fit your budget, too.

Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q: I would like to build an outdoor fireplace. Could I use cinder or cement blocks The cost would be about half of clay brick

A: Cinder or concrete blocks or bricks can be used, but you should line the combustion area with a fire brick. This will prevent damage to the blocks because of excessive heat.

Q: I have a plate-glass window in our lake cottage which has a cloudy streak running through it. Is there anything that can be done to remove the streak

A: Try cleaning the glass with a fine scratchless scouring powder and a little kerosene. Or you might try the wax-base glass-cleaning preparation. If these materials have been tried without success, the streak might be a thin film of paint. If so, liquid paint remover should take it off.

Q: I have a good maple kitchen set that is about 25 years old and has been varnished. Could I refinish it in the black lacquer that is so popular now.

A: All of the varnish would have to be removed down to the bare wood with paint remover or sandpaper. When the surface is smooth and free of dust, black lacquer or semigloss black enamel can be applied. Lacquer is best applied with a spray gun. If you do not know how to use it, I suggest finishing with black enamel. I wonder if you have considered the dust problem on a black surface

Plans Need Conformity For Loan Requirements

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

You can do as you please in planning or remodeling a house if you can afford to pay cash. Local building regulations may be your only restrictions. But if you need help in the form of a mortgage loan, brace yourself for some kibitzing as to the style of a house you can have, the size and shape of rooms, the arrangement of kitchen and bathrooms and various other details.

Some dictation along that line is supposed to be for your own good. It can protect your investment in the house as well as the lender's interest. It can guard a neighborhood against freakish or extreme architecture. It even can keep you from killing yourself.

FOR EXAMPLE, a large life insurance company is now blackballing mortgages on houses which have only shoulde.-high strip windows in bedrooms. As a fire safety precaution, this organization has ruled that "at least one operative window in each bedroom must have a sill height of 3 feet 8 inches or less from the finished floor."

Furthermore, this must be a window easy to get out of. "Where this one window is a single unit awning type," the edict continues, "the narrow dimension of the sash must be at least 24 inches."

Of course this is the policy of just one institution; many mortgage lenders seeming to be more concerned with merely getting their money out. But it is a policy most people can appreciate. Even the man who does not own a house, but carries some life insurance, wants to know that his money is safely invested.

"Basic principles of good planning," contends this institution, "have a definite meaning to the long-term investor whose decisions are influenc ' by the fact that funds are entrusted to him by many small accounts. . . .The interests of the long-term investor differ from those of builder and and broker, because the loan security must be salable or rentable in a future as well as in a present market, and must be designed and constructed to satisfy the future demands of the wildest possible market."

ARCHITECTS' reactions, to these dictates from financial institutions are varied.

"Makes sense," said one architect. "I stopped specifying strip windows about three years ago, but I never thought of the hazard. However, the FHA has taken some steps in that direction. In certain areas the FHA will not approve of a bathroom window over a bathtub. It not only involves a hazard of falling when opening and closing the window, but it also comlicates use of the shower, the hanging of curtains and it tends to chill the bathtub. But in other states we can get by with it."

Another architect was more skeptical. "Personally," he said, "I don't like strip windows, but I don't think the fire hazard amounts to anything in a one-family, one-story house. More likely this is the reflection of some individual's opinion—someone who doesn't like strip windows."

A third architect expressed serious concern. "For years," he said, "financial institutions opposed any form of contemporary design. Mortgageable houses had to be imitation colonial, synthetic tudor or fake Georgian. Ranch houses without basements shook the pillars of the Federal Reserve and in many places flat roofs are still outlaws. If bankers designed our houses, we'd probably still be living in caves."

Local, Area Residents Attend Miami Workshop

A number of Marion and area school lunchroom personnel attended the three-day workshop on the Miami University campus in Oxford, Wednesday through Friday.

The annual school lunch workshop was sponsored jointly by the department of home economics at the university and the school lunch division of the state department of education. The workshop featured addresses and discussions on the subjects of menu planning, record keeping, lunchroom sanitation, lunchroom operation, equipment, cookery and surplus commodities.

Attending from Marion were: Mrs. Louise Felter, Mrs. Betty Strickland, Mary Lou Schindler, Mrs. Effie Cole, Adene Gallady and Mrs. Louise Short. From Green Camp, Mrs. Ethel Johnson and Mrs. Ruth Finch attended. Upper Sandusky was represented by Mrs. Clara Hoover, Mrs. Fred Young, Mrs. E. G. Boles, Mrs. E. R. Moser, Mrs. George Denman, Mrs. Ralph Swartz and Mrs. H. J. Phillips.

Modern Living

Outdoor Furniture Care Not Difficult To Provide

By VIVIAN BROWN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Outdoor living is part of the American scheme of enjoyment. So garden furniture has come into prominence.

Bamboo, rattan, redwood, wrought iron, aluminum, stainless steel and plastic are just a few of the materials that bring the outdoors into the realm of easy living.

Redwood is popular, easy to refinish and to keep looking new with this method: Sand, smoothing away wood fibers, using a holder for the sandpaper. Remove all wood dust with a clean dry brush or lint-free cloth. Two coats of color-toned resin sealer give a durable finish protecting your wood against warping, swelling. Pores of wood are sealed against damaging moisture and special pigments filter out sun's rays. Resin color tones include driftwood, redwood, sage, cedar, mahogany or others, permitting natural wood grain to show through. Sand lightly between coats.

OUTDOOR METAL furniture may be rejuvenated by washing, sandpapering rough or glossy surfaces, cracks and rust spots, and then painting. Give bare metal a coat of metal primer. Stir a speed enamel that is a nonfading weather protector. Use a clean soft-bristled brush. Place tables upside down so you can do legs first. Eighteen colors are available in this enamel. High style colors include antique white, cream, ddusky black, aqua, pale pink and coral this year. You dan sprinkle a little gold metallic powder on newly painted surfaces before the paint dries for a special treat.

Bamboo and rattan are also being painted in a dull black finish—better for patio or covered terrace, however, than in the broiling sun. Reds, vivid green and blue paints are being used on other wood finishes. Cracks or nail head indentations should be filled in wood chairs with a spackling material before sanding and painting.

FENCE POSTS and trellises may be protected from fungi and borers by using a wood preservative. Surfaces must be clean before applying liquid.

Garden walks and patios may be coated in gay colors with a waterproof enamel that provides eather protection. It has a plastic rubber base, easy to use on concrete and flagstone.

Screens can get rustproof protection with a special screen enamel that does not clog wire mesh, helps to prevent oxidation and streaking of sills and sidewalls by copper and bronze sceens.

Mildew growths on outdoor furniture, trim, etc., can be stopped by adding a mildew preventive to paints and lacquers.

Candidates for State Education Board Speak at Mount Gilead

A meeting to discuss recent school legislation and meet some of the candidates for the newly-created state board of education was held Thursday night in the Morrow County Courthouse in Mount Gilead.

Candidates attending the meeting were Dr. Richard W. Mills, Marion physician, Charlton Myers, Marion attorney and a resident of Morral, and Pearson Linn, Crawford County farmer.

T. A. Gantz, superintendent of the Morrow County schools, presided, and attending were school administrators, members of county boards of education and county leaders.

In informal talks the candidates sketched their backgrounds and qualifications and expressed their opinions on the duties of a state board and its place in the field of education.

Earl N. Johnston, a member of the Iberia School teaching staff, discussed "Qualifications Necessary for a State School Board," Mrs. C. W Davis of Cardington, discussed "Public Responsibility in the Affairs of the School," Forest Porter, a member of the Sparta board of education, had as his topic, "The Poblems Facing a Small School," and Gantz discussed "The Foundation Program and How It Affects Morow County."

Mrs. Jack Holden, pupil personnel director of Morrow County, was in charge of the organization and program for the meeting.

Growing Pains

Compost Pile Essential For Success of Garden

By ALBERT S. FULLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

There's nothing exotic about a compost pile—but it is an important part of the garden and one of the best investments in time and energy.

Many times, in garden instructions, you are urged to use compost to enrich a section of soil for certain plantings.

Where, comes the question, is this obtained

YOUR BACKYARD is the best compost factory site. The raw materials are there for use. The production line is the garden patch. The machinery is simple — a spade, a fork, a wheelbarrow and a little back work on your part.

All the garden provides grist for your mill. Grass clippings, dead flower cuttings, fallen leaves, weeds (which have not gone to seed)—just about anything which is green and ready for discard will do, except diseased plants.

One neighbor is so compost conscious that she insists on getting the greens of carrot tops with her grocery orders to provide more material for the pile.

Creation of a compost pile is about the simplest thing in the book, yet it is overlooked or ignored by many an otherwise Green Thumb.

Here's how it goes:

Choose a location in a back corner of the garden.

Figure on using an area about four by six feet, although the size is not standardized. Just be sure you can work to the middle with no trouble.

AS A BASE, use a layer of soil or some upside down sod from a new garden bed you have prepared. If manure is available, use a layer as you build up the pile to about a six-foot height.

Then, using any quickly decaying material from the garden or the kitchen vegetable debris, build up layer after layer, using a layer of soil between layers of other compost material. Spread commercial fertilizer, such as 5-10-5 atop layers to speed the decay.

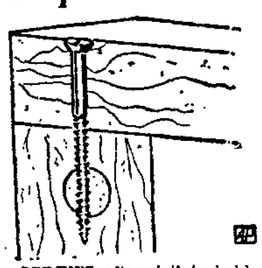
If the soil you are using is heavy, add some sand.

Keep the top center of the pile in a saucer shape to catch and hold rainfall. Keep the pile moist. Every few months, take a fork and turn over the pile working from the outside to the center. Add some ground limestone, but do not put this atop the manure layers, for it will release the ammonia in the manure and cut down on its fertilizing elements.

This process won't get you compost tomorrow. Figure on using the composted soil in a year or so. But once you get a start, after the first year, you'll have a steady supply of the compost you are always urged to use for potting plants, enriching perennial beds, or for use in cold frames and many other purposes.

In this garden game, the race goes to the slow—the garden ribbons go to the composter.

Helps Hold Screw



SCREWS often fail to hold securely when driven into end grain. The American Home magazine suggests drilling a hole through the board to be joined at its end grain and gluing in a dowel as shown here. The screw gets a firm bite and makes a strong joint.

Shaky Tables Can Gain New Leases on Life

There's an easy remedy for shaky tables, wardrobes, bookcases —and even a sagging old garage that groans and shivers with every breeze. It's sturdy pressed wood, available at lumber yards.

These thin but extremely strong panels, made by exploding wood chips and then forming them into grainless sheets under heat and pressure, have a high resistance to "racking," so that they add great strength to the building or furniture to which they are applied.

As a steadying influence on a rickety workbench or worktable, simply nail a skirt of the pressed wood around the legs underneath the top.

Triangular gusset plates of this material, nailed over the corners of a storm door, screen door, or small door on a barn, will perform a salvaging operation. The same applies to a sagging farm gate, which will swing again without dragging.

For a wobbly wardrobe which threatens to fall apart, glue or nail, depending on the material involved, a panel of the wood to the back. Storage boxes that sag may be supported by the addition of wood bracers.

Many garages are flimsy in construction. At small cost, they may be improved strength-wise and in appearance by nailing 4 x 8 panels of ¼ inch pressed wood right over the studs. It would be wise, in making this improvement, to include several panels of quarter-inch "peg-board," the perforated panels, which are wonderful for storage.

Farm buildings, summer cottages or cabins may similarly be strengthened and beautified by the installation of hardboard panels.

Some of the household items that lend themselves to the "anti-racking" treatment are trunks, suitcases, bookcases, shelves, desks and beds.

Using Clamps

Tips on Repair of Homes

By ANDREW C. LANG
Associated Press Staff Writer

DO . . . consider a set of clamps of varying sizes and styles one of the best possible investments for a home workshop.

DO . . . remember that C clamps or other types of metal jaws should be faced with wood or some other soft material to prevent marring the surface of the work.

DO . . . use clamps known as hand screws for heavier projects and when it is necessary to hold uneven surfaces.

DO . . . use bar or pipe clamps for large framing, table tops, etc., being sure not to buckle the work by turning the handles too tightly.

DO . . . improve a clamping jig when none of your own clamps fits a particular job, remembering that much can be accomplished by utilizing the squeezing action of wooden wedges.

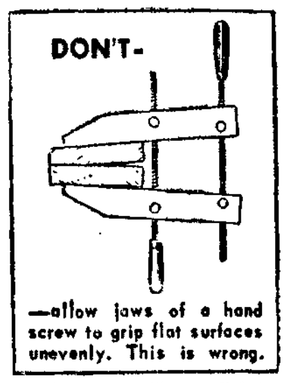
DON'T . . . make the beginner's common error of expecting a clamp to remedy a poorly-made joint.

DON'T . . . forget that on flat surfaces, hand screws must grip the work with parallel jaws in order to get proper results.



—allow jaws of a hand screw to grip flat surfaces unevenly. This is wrong.

DON'T . . . overlook the use of clamps even when the joints are not being glued; they are excellent for holding the work in position while nails or screws are being driven into place.

DON'T . . . think that round or curved wood cannot be clamped properly; there are special hand clamps for just such a purpose.

DON'T . . . neglect the use of long flat pieces of board to increase the pressure of clamps which may not be long enough.

Amendment to Ohio Reciprocity Agreement Prepared by Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mailing of an amendment and an explanatory letter to 20 states with which Ohio has reciprocity agreements concerning truckers today awaited clearance by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

The amendment was drawn up yesterday in rough form by the old state reciprocity board and is designed to alter agreements so that Ohio can collect highway use taxes—the axle tax on big trucks —from truckers of the 20 states. The letter explains that if the amendment is not accepted, the letter is Ohio's official notice of intention to cancel existing agreements.

Recently the state supreme court held the reciprocity agreement with Michigan covers the highway use tax and thus Michigan truckers do not have to pay it. The governor wants to amend the agreement and 19 others so the axle use tax ranging from one-half cent to 2½ cents a mile is specifically barred.

Reciprocity Board Chairman Robert L. Moulton said yesterday, "we will take no official action on sending out the amendments and letters until we get clearance from the governor." Moulton is also chairman of the state utilities commission.

The amendment as proposed will not change any other provisions in existing agreements which state briefly that one state will not tax vehicles from another state, if the second state agrees.

Besides Michigan, the amendment and letter would be sent to Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, New Mexico, Texas and a group of 10 southern states.

Racing Crowd Raises Fund for Fatherless Boy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Five-year-old Darl Carson III, who only last week lost his father in a racing car accident, today was assured of a college education—thanks to the drivers with whom his father raced, the Columbus Motor Speedway and 4,516 generous racing fans.

They combined last night in a benefit program to raise about $4,500 for a trust fund for little Darl. The program was held at the Columbus Motor Speedway on which the boy's father was fatally burned last Friday night in the wreckage of his racer.

The drivers, who also gave Darl a pony, raised $1,250 by donating half their purses. The track management matched that sum, and a collection among the crowd raised the remainder.

Both Columbia University and the University of California had more than 1,000 foreign students enrolled this year.

Wildlife Chief Dambach Looking for Post at OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The chief of Ohio's wildlife division says he would return to Ohio State University to head its Natural Resources Institute, if the post were offered him.

Dr. Charles A. Dambach, wildlife chief since 1950, said yesterday he was interested in the post. Dambach, however, said he was happy in his present job

"I left the university reluctantly to set up the wildlife division on a professional scale," he said. "I would definitely take the job, but only because I feel I have fulfilled my obligations here."

University trustees are slated to fill the post next month. The institute is under the university's College of Agriculture.

Suggests Wealth Be Shared

Engineer Looking Ahead To Conquest of the Moon

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—A Dutch aeronautical engineer said today the nations of the world should agree to share the wealth of the moon—if it has any.

Simon van Munster of the Aviolande Aircraft Factory, Papendreckt, the Netherlands, said the combined research efforts of all nations would be needed to get the first space ship to the moon. Therefore, he said, anything of value found there should be divided "among the world's people."

Suggests UNESCO

Van Munster said cooperation on research and a share-the-wealth plan conceivably could be worked out through the U. N. Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization.

Van Munster is here for the sixth annual meeting of the International Astronautical Federation. He said in an interview the IAF already has made contact with UNESCO concerning a program of world cooperation on research.

Saying it might be possible to reach the moon by 1980, the engineer added:

"If we are to go outside the earth, we must realize we must all work together to solve the problems of space flight. No one nation can solve these problems of getting out into space and of living there. There must be cooperation in research by all nations."

He said arrangements should be worked out beforehand so the pioneer moon explorers would turn over to UNESCO, for worldwide distribution, anything of value found there.

'Might Be Something'

"There might be some material on the moon that would differ, say, from either the coal or the iron found on the earth, but which might have value," he said.

Krafft Ehricke, an aeronautical engineer for the Convair Aircraft Co., San Diego, Calif. said in an interview "it appears realizable" to land a manned vehicle on the moon some time "during the 1990's."

He said the flight conceivably could be made with present-day chemical rocket propellants but there is a need for working out "new types of propulsion systems," especially for any ventures beyond the moon.

But before there's any trip to the moon, Ehricke said, it will first be necessary to establish a manned satellite in the outer fringes of the earth's atmosphere—as a take-off point for the "lunar special."

Red Skelton Raps Crockett Critics; Defends Legend

By JAMES BACON
(For vacationing Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Davy Crockett has a champion, if he ever needed one, in Red Skelton.

"It's like telling the kids that there's no Santa Claus," Skelton declared in rapping a recent wave of anti-Crockett publicity. A number of writers have pictured Crockett as a whiskey-drinking braggart who was his own best press agent.

"Davy Crockett has made it popular to be an American again," commented the famed comic. "Whai's wrong with that?"

Red claims that it was not Walt Disney nor publicity that brought on the Davy Crockett craze.

"The kids themselves were responsible. They discovered Davy. Even Disney will admit that he had no idea that his Crockett films would affect the small fry the way they did.

"To see our children laugh—to see ourselves laugh with our children because of the Davy Crockett craze is one of the greatest forces for good this country has had in years."

Skelton, continuing in a rare serious mood, said the so-called debunkers of Crockett probably are the same ones who will squawk the loudest about juvenile delinquency.

"The Crockett legend has done more to straighten out kids than the old time use of the razor strop. So now the cynics want to tear him apart. Imagine the confusion in a child's mind when he reads stories—or hears of them—that picture his idol as a gambler, a drunkard and a teller of tall tales?"

Skelton said Crockett never pretended to be "an enlightener or reformer of the world."

"Why couldn't they leave the kids their hero? What good has it done to tear him down?"

Skelton claims that the Crockett craze has brought nothing but good to the country.

"It's given children a new interest in play. It's started America singing again. It's stimulated business."

Kansas City Star Is Fined $5,000 on Monopoly Charges

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Star was fined $5,000 in federal court Friday on charges of monopolizing the dissemination of news and advertising in the Kansas City area.

Emil A. Sees, advertising manager of the Star, was fined $2,500 on a charge of attempted monopolization.

Judge Richard Duncan, before assessing the penalties, overruled motions by both the Star and Sees to set aside their conviction on the charges by a jury last February.

The jury convicted the Star of both attempted monopolization and of monopolization itself. Sees, who did not become advertising manager of the newspaper until 1950, was convicted only of attempted monopolization.

A civil suit asking that the Star be retrained from the alleged monopolistic practices is pending.

Both the newspaper and Sees sought to have the verdict set aside and a verdict of acquittal entered, or if not that, then for a new trial. Judge Duncan not only refused to set aside the verdict and acquit the defendants but also denied the new trial.

The government indictment against the Star based the monopolization case on charges that the newspaper and Sees threatened to refuse to publish advertisements when an advertiser proposed to use other media or had purchased larger space in another media. The government also attacked the newspaper's combination advertising and subscription rates for its morning and evening editions.

Church Council Seeks Support From Russians

DAVOS, Switzerland (AP) — The World Council of Churches' Central Committee wants the Russian Orthodox Church and other Christian churches in the Soviet Union to seek "full and free relationships" with the council.

The committee's views were set forth in a 2,000-word message sent Friday to Moscow. It rejected the Moscow patriarchate's bid last February for the council's support of the Communist-backed world peace council. The council has turned down similar bids in the past.

Pope Seeks To Unite Orthodox and Catholic

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII has appealed to the eastern rite churches to reunite with the Roman Catholic Church after centuries of schism. This was viewed as a plea to the orthodox churches, including the Russian, which do not recognize the Pope.

The Pope sent a letter Friday to Archimandrite Isidore Croce, abbot of the monastery of Santa Maria Grottaferrata outside Rome. It is the seat of an eastern rite branch which still recognizes the Pope.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT

Estate of Noah M. Dutton, Deceased. Notice is hereby given that Myrtle A. Peterman has been appointed and qualified as Administrator of the estate of Noah M. Dutton, late of Marion County, deceased.

Dated at Marion, Ohio, this 29th day of July, A.D. 1955.

Edward J. Ruzzo, Probate Judge, Marion County, Ohio.

Case No. 21111.
July 30 Aug. 6,13,1955.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that on the 19th day of May, 1955, there was presented to the Board of Commissioners of Marion County, Ohio, a Petition for Annexation, and on the 30th day of June, 1955, a Supplemental Petition for Annexation was presented, which Petition and Supplemental Petition are being treated as one Petition, signed by all of the freeholders owning lands and building in the territory to be annexed, all of which property is being used for residential purposes or is to be used for residential development, which property is described as follows:

Situated in the County of Marion, and State of Ohio and adjacent to the City of Marion, Ohio, being more particularly described as follows:

Being a part of the South part of the Southeast quarter of Section Fifteen (15), Township Five (5) South, Range Fifteen (15) East, and being more particularly described as follows: Commencing at the Southeast corner of said Section 15; thence West 0° 00' along the South line of said Section Fifteen (15) being in Fairground Street, eight hundred thirty-three and nine-tenths (833.9) feet to the place of beginning; thence continuing west along the South line of said section and in Fairground Street one thousand five hundred fifty-four and nine-tenths (1554.9) feet to a point; thence North 0° 05' East one thousand nine hundred seventy-nine and six-tenths (1979.6) feet to a point; thence North 89° 45' East one thousand five hundred fifty-one (1551) feet to a point; thence South 0° 03' East one thousand nine hundred eighty-nine and one-tenth (1989.1) feet to the place of beginning, containing seventy and seven hundred thirty-two thousands (70.732) acres, more or less, subject to all legal highways.

The petitioners have asked that said territory be annexed to the City of Marion, Ohio, in the manner provided by law, and have designated George F. Scantland, Jr., as their Agent in securing such annexation.

On the 21st day of July, 1955, the Board of Commissioners accepted and filed said Petition and fixed the 8th day of September, 1955, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. as the time for hearing on said Petition, at the office of the County Commissioners in the Court House at Marion, Ohio.

George F. Scantland, Jr.,
Agent.

Let his latent love for music find expression . . . start him now on the—Acrosonic SPINET PIANO
by Baldwin
That busy mind is right now seeking a formula for living . . . something tangible to tie to. Make it music! The study of music "sugar coats" the finest of training . . . and in addition gives him a magnificent, boundless world as a lifetime reward. Start him with the piano that fits your living . . . fulfills his need for sparkling tone, musical precision, a handsome instrument that truly leads him to music!
Let's talk over terms that make your Acrosonic surprisingly easy to own.

Life's Most Sacred Bond

A Sermonette

By REV. J. B. HOLLOWAY
Pastor of Trinity Baptist Church

"He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me." Matt. 10:32:42.

There are many ties which bind us "in the bundle of life" as our associations increase. There are bonds of friendship which may seem to grow stronger as the years go by even though we may be separated in distance from our choice friends by many miles. There are fraternal ties and loyalties to organizations which may often bind us.

In addition there are patriotic bonds and racial ties for which men have been willing to give their lives rather than forfeit them. All of these and more have their rightful place in our common daily experiences. They tend to color our ideals and mould our characters, and are worthy of being cherished and cultivated.

FOR MILLIONS of people through the ages however, the blood ties of home and family, relationships have been by far the most sacred and binding. When a bride and groom plight their troth at the marriage altar they voluntarily take upon themselves solemn vows to love and to cherish each other so long as they both shall live in spite of whatever adversities may befall them. Because of this sacred bond of affection a man and a woman will leave all other earthly relationships and will cleave one to the other and thus a home is established.

It is because of these ties of mutual love and affection, rather than a sense of duty, which impel members of family clans to travel great distances on occasion to attend family reunions. These bonds of fellowship within the home are very strong and contribute to the sum total of human happiness and contentment.

Life's most sacred bond will not be found on the material plain where the object of the affection will tarnish and vanish with the passing of the years, however precious it may appear for the moment. Rather it must be found in the realm of the spiritual for a redeemed personality possesses the highest value of anything in all the world. As compared with material possessions, Jesus said, "What shall it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" Certainly the love for one's family should be a stronger bond than the love of possessions, for the one is in the realm of the spiritual and the other is purely material, but there is a bond which is more sacred and binding even than the ties of family affection. It is the personal bond of loyalty and devotion to Christ when the soul has been redeemed and the life has been reclaimed. "Our deepest concern," says Halford Luccock, "is not to add years to our life, but life to our years." Life takes on new meaning in Christ.

OUR PERSONALITIES find their fullest realization in union therein is life's most sacred bond. It transcends all earthly relationships, even that which exists between father and mother and their children, or husband and wife. Jesus placed a severe test upon our personal relationship to Him when He said: "He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me." All natural and human affection must take second place. The Bible reminds us that a person's foes may sometimes be those of his own household when they come between him and Christ and contend for his loyalty.

If the claims of relatives and the claims of Christ come into collision, the claims of the family must give way for Christ, for He has a prior claim upon our devotion if we would be His disciples. Seldom is it ever necessary for a follower of Jesus to sever any family ties for His sake, but the real test comes in our being absolutely willing to give up ALL in order that we might obtain the one pearl of great price.

Jesus alone has a right to first claim upon our affections in view of what He has done for us and what He is able to do for us which no other can do both in this life or in the life to come. Parents and friends might be willing to die in our stead, but none could free us from the bondage of sin and give us eternal life in so doing save Christ alone. He has bound us to Him with a deathless bond of love and grants to us rewards which no earthly bond can guarantee. Our personal relationship to Christ, then, becomes life's most sacred bond.

Mrs. W. C. Bowman New President of WCTU Unit

Mrs. W. C. Bowman was elected president of the Anna Gordon WCTU Wednesday at the home of Mrs. L. E. Weir of 342 Merchant Ave. Mrs. Bessie Thornberry was elected recording secretary; Mrs. Weir, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Ethel Stanley, treasurer. Devotions were by Mrs. Mildred Noble. Discussion was on, "Our Opportunity." Contests were conducted by Mrs. Thornberry and Mrs. Weir presented a poem. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. C. A. Dubbs on Cleveland Ct.

"OUR DEALER HELPED US to CHOOSE WISELY"

When you choose your Rock of Ages family monument, you not only select a beautiful example of design and craftsmanship — you also avail yourself of the understanding and long experience we, as your Authorized Rock of Ages Dealer, can give you in making a suitable and satisfying selection.

Look for this seal on your Rock of Ages Monument or marker. It identifies all Rock of Ages Memorials.

IT MUST HAPPEN

There are a certain few "musts" during our lifetime—things we eventually have to do. One of those is the purchase of a family burial lot. It is an average transaction if made before the need arises. May we at the Marion Cemetery assist you?

REX MORGAN, M.D. By Dal Curtis

WHEN YOU SAY MARTELL'S BEEN ADMITTED TO A PSYCHIATRIC HOSPITAL, YOU'RE ACTUALLY SAYING YOU HAVE HIM LOCKED UP GOOD AND TIGHT, EH, DR. MORGAN?
TELL ME, MR. YOUNG, WAS JACK A GOOD EMPLOYEE BEFORE HE BECAME SICK?
ONE OF THE BEST, DOCTOR! HE HAD A WONDERFUL FUTURE HERE IN MY FIRM!
DO YOU MEAN THEN--- THAT YOU WON'T PERMIT HIM TO RETURN?
ARE YOU KIDDING ME? YOU DON'T THINK, FOR A MOMENT, I'D EVER LET THAT MANIAC STEP INTO THIS OFFICE AGAIN, DO YOU?

Atomic Reactor Latest Weapon In Cancer Fight

LOS ANGELES (UP) — A new weapon in the war on cancer—the world's first atomic energy reactor designed specifically for medical treatment and research—will be built here by the University of California.

The reactor, to be built at the university's Medical Center, will provide for two types of radiation —gamma rays and thermal neutrons.

These can be beamed selectively at deep-seated cancers, often difficult to treat by surgery or present forms of radiation.

The reactor's atomic fuel — enough to produce gamma rays of a greater intensity than those produced by 50 pounds of radium — will be obtained on loan from the Atomic Energy Commission. It will consist of about four gallons of uranyl sulphate solution, highly enriched in uranium 235. The fuel will be contained in a one-foot stainless steel sphere.

The solution type reactor will be ticles, fumes or smoke will be exhausted into the atmosphere or sewage systems.

The reactor, expected to be completed within 18 months, will be built by North American Aviation's nuclear engineering and manufacturing division. Financing will be by the AEC and the California Institute for Cancer Research. The building will be paid for by the self-contained. No radioactive paruniversity.

When completed, experiments will be conducted first on animals, later on human beings.

USING HIS HEAD

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Seven-year-old Pat Managhan recently figured out a method of getting past hard words when he reads to his blind grandfather. He spells them out with his finger on his grandfather's head, and his grandfather tells him what they are.

MARKETS GROW

NEW YORK (INS) — The supermarket industry has grown from a handful of such shops in 1930 to over 18,000 in 1955. Today it costs about $350,000 to build the average supermart, and in some areas costs may run as high as $1 million.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Add to Your Happiness

One of the most remarkable people I have ever met was an aged Negro woman. She lived in Florida and her grandson, knowing that I was spending a short vacation there, asked me to go to see her.

DR. PEALE

He wrote me that he thought of her as "an angel on two feet." "She has never had much money," he said, "but her laugh is like music." And he told me about all the children she had put through school, including himself.

I went out to her place, a humble little house at the edge of town on a dirt road. But there was no one home. I was just about to leave when I saw a woman coming down the road with a pack on her back. She had a rolling walk, almost like a sailor's. And she sang as she walked.

When she came up in front of the house, I asked if she were the woman for whom I was looking. "Why, yes, honey," she answered with a captivating smile. "What can I do for you?"

"I just came over to see you," I said.

"Why, isn't that nice of you? What did you come to see me for?"

"Well," I answered, "your grandson wrote me and said that you are 'an angel on two feet', and I wanted to see an angel on two feet."

SHE LAUGHED. "I'm no angel, and that boy shouldn't say such things about his old grandma."

"He said you had a laugh like music," I told her, "and he was right about that."

She asked me in and showed me pictures of all the children she had helped. Then the telephone rang and she answered it. I could hear her saying: "Now, honey, don't you worry. Don't you worry. I'll come over there this afternoon and I'll prop you up . . . Just remember, I'll prop you up."

When she had hung up, I asked, "Who is this you're going to prop up"?

"Oh," she answered, "that's a poor little old rich white woman and she's having an awful time; at least she thinks she is. So I'm going over this afternoon to her house and prop her up."

I liked that—"prop her up." Don't we all need "propping up" now and then?

As we continued to talk, it seemed to me that this woman was one of the most radiant, happy and completely cheerful individuals I had ever met. Finally I asked: "How did you get this way? How did you find this joy and happiness"?

"Why landsakes honey," she replied, "I just have God in my heart." That seemed a rather adequate answer, and I went away happy within myself.

I CAN SEE HER yet, standing there on that faded porch, the shabbiness of her surroundings made beautiful by the radiance on her face.

What she had was beyond philosophy, beyond the usual measurements of success. It was the most basic of all ideas expressed in the Bible simply as "God is love." This woman truly loved people because she had God in her heart

And how does one get God in his heart? It is very simple. First, develop love in your heart and then you will have God in your heart. And the only way you can have love in your heart is to cast out hate and prejudice and grudges. The greatest of all formulas of joy is the Biblical precept, "Love one another."

The first thing to do is to empty the heart of all ill-will. Cast out resentment and hate. Practice love, and ultimately you will receive love in return. You cannot expect that the world will change overnight simply because you've changed. But by continuing to live with love in your heart, you will have made a beginning, and presently your world will be a much happier place in which to live.

Six File Petitions For Fall Election

CAREY — Norman Armstrong, clerk of the Wyandot County Board of Elections, has announced that six persons have filed for various appointments to be filled in the November election.

C. A. Yeoman has filed as clerk of the Crawford Township trustees; Dean Wright has filed a petition for re-election as township trustee and Kenneth Maenle has filed for constable. Vincent J. Brown has filed for the Carey exempted village board of education. Terms of two board of education members will expire Jan. 1, 1956, those of Brown and Forest Davis.

Only two, so far, have filed petitions as candidates for Carey village councilman, Richard E. Jurrus and G. C. Wagner. Wagner's second four-year term will expire Jan. 1 and also expiring then will be the term of Councilman Harry Rook.

The deadline for filing petitions is Wednesday, August 10.

Bugle Corps in Meet

The Cavalieres, Bird - McGinnis Post drum and bugle corps, will go to Urbana Sunday where they will compete for honors at the Champaign County fair. Other drum and bugle corps competing will be Portland, Ind., Forestville and Circleville. The contest is scheduled for 8 p.m. Drill instructors of the corps are Wayne Willis and Harvey Bell.

Lima Man To Talk

R. Stanley Tam

Appearing in Marion at the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church Sunday will be a Lima man, R. Stanley Tam, who will explain at both morning and evening worship services why he turns 51 per cent of the annual profits of his States Smelting & Refining Co. to missionary and other religious work. He is a member of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church in Lima.

Previously he has been in Marion to speak to the local Christian Business Men's Committee. He fills many speaking engagements both in this country and abroad because of his feeling that "money alone is not sufficient contribution" to fulfill the "covenant" and legally recorded partnership he made in 1940 after he had first failed in business

At 2 p.m. Sunday he will conduct a personal workers class at the Marion church. Leader for midweek service Wednesday night will be Miss Mary Van Gorden.

Elder Haase Will Take Pastorate of Adventist Churches

New pastor of the Marion, Galion, Bucyrus and Upper Sandusky Seventhday Adventist Churches is Elder Walter Haase who comes here from Hackensack, N.J.

He and Mrs. Haase plan to take up permanent residence in the area after Aug. 20. A daughter, Marilyn, 18, is in summer school where she is enrolled in teacher training at Washington Missionary College, Washington D.C., denominational school. She plans to teach in New Jersey in the fall.

For the last six and a half years Elder Haase has been pastor of the Hackensack and Westwood, N.J., Seventh - day Adventist Chuches. He preached at the Bucyrus Church last Saturday.

The former pastor, Elder Wylie O. Fowler, is transferring residence to Providence, R.I., where he will be engaged in evangelistic work.

Total operating expenses for the first half of 1955 amounted to $943,265 with $487,421 occurring during the second quarter.

Auditor Returns Finding

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A finding of $1,985 against 32 employes of the Summit County district health board for travel allowances drawn while on vacation has been returned by State Auditor James A. Rhodes. Travel allowances ranged from $30 to $100 monthly, examiners who covered the period between Sept. 1, 1949, and Nov. 15, 1954, said yesterday.

Rev. Holt Is Author

Galion Minister's Book Accepted for Publishing

GALION — A Galion minister's book, entitled "Life's Convictions," has been accepted for publication. Rev. Turner Holt, who is pastor of First Church of Christ, hopes, through its pages, that it will leave a good influence on the lives of those who read it.

The book was accepted by the Vantage Press of New York City, now the seventh largest publisher in the United States, and it will be off the press not later than April, 1956.

Printer's ink has been in his blood since Rev. Holt had an article published in a farm paper when he was 16 years old. He has had two poems published "The Silver Thread" and "Christ is King." He also has written for Religious News Service. For a long time he was life problems superintendent of the State Christian Endeavor Union when he wrote a monthly editorial, "Buckeye Endeavor."

REV. HOLT'S BOOK could well be adapted for study by the seminary, but he believes it would serve as well as a guide for living to people from the seventh grade up. It is nondenominational in character, he said.

"Whether you intend it so, you will influence people for good or ill all your life. The kind words you speak will live together longer than you, so far as this short life is concerned, and by the same token, the harsh words also will live," Rev. Holt writes in the 12th chapter entitled "Using Your Influence."

The book has 14 chapters, the titles are: Life's Convictions, The Importance of Decision, High Aim is Needed, Personal Development, Moral Freedom, The Will to Win, Religion in Life, Training the Intellect, Using Your Influence, Saturday Afternoon and Beyond the Sunset.

In the 10th chapter, "Love Rules Life," the pastor writes: "Without love, the world would be like the snow-capped peaks of the great mountain, beautiful as viewed from the distance, perhaps, but terribly cold to touch."

"The late years the Saturday afternoon years — should be our happiest and most contented," Rev. Holt writes in his 13th chapter.

REV. HOLT'S manuscript was accepted the first time out, with no request for re-writes and no criticism. The editorial staff of the Vantage Press has given him very favorable reports on the quality of his work, with this comment received in a letter from the president, Alan F. Pater.

Helen Winner, editorial director for the publishing house writes that his manuscript received excellent report from the editorial readers. Her comments follow: "There is no place in Christian economy for crude selfishness (the Rev. Mr. Holt affirms in this inspirational volume, which carries a deep message of encouragement and hope.) Basing his views upon consideration of life's eternal possibilities, the author holds forth an inspiring goal for man; to aim with generous purpose toward the goal of making this a better world. Mr Holt's thoughts, expressive of the depth of love and possibilities for service to others inherent in the Christian religion, are presented in a series of clear, stimulating and rewarding chapters. This is indeed a book rich in communication of faith and in expression of the way to so conduct oneself as to live a life truly meaningful, complete. Highly recommended for publication."

For the past seven years, Rev. Holt has served First Church of Christ in Galion as its pastor. He has had only three other pastorates prior to coming here in 1948. The first was at Shenandoah, north of Mansfield, the second at Dennison where he served Park Christian Church, and the third at First Church of Christ, East Liberty.

REV. TURNER HOLT
Book Being Published

—:—

BORN ON A SOUTHERN plantation in Overton County, Tenn., the estate of his maternal grandfather who was a pioneer minister in the area, Rev. Holt's ancestors were in this country long before the Revolutionary War. He received his education at Livingston Academy at Livingston, Tenn., and furthered his studies at East Texas State and at Milligan College at Milligan, Tenn.

Later he studied at the National Bible College at Wichita, Kan., and at Ashland College in Ohio. He has had three and one-half years of graduate work at Ashland Theological Seminary and lectures at several other universities and summer institutes.

Rev. Holt and his wife, Vina, live in the Church of Christ parsonage. Mrs. Holt is a direct descendant of Tennessee's first governor, John Sevier, and a distant relative of the Tennessee pioneer, Davy Crockett. The Holts have three daughters, Mrs. Willard M. Andrew Jr., Mrs. Gaylord Mumaw, Mrs. Richard Gramly, all living in Mansfield; and seven grandchildren. A nephew, James Reeder, 14, makes his home with the Holts.

New Minister Arrives For Crestline Vacancy

CRESTLINE—Rev. Burgess M. DeLong of Lorain arrived in Crestline this week to fill the vacancy at the Crestline Nazarene Church caused by the retirement of Rev. A. J. Laird.

Rev. Laird has been pastor here for the past six years and has retired from the ministry after 39 years. His wife, an ordained minister, has accepted a call to the Nazarene Church at Killbuck, O., where they will make their home.

School Heads Get Pay Boosts

Executives in Bucyrus To Receive $300 More

BUCYRUS — Approval of pay boosts for City School Supt. I. J. Miller and High School Principal Robert Latta were announced here today by the board of education.

The salary of Supt. Miller, who came to Bucyrus in 1951 from Wellington, was boosted $300 to $7,400 a year. Principal Latta also was given a $300 a year increase, his new salary being $6,000. Latta has held the post one year, coming here from Mechanigsburg, O where he had been superintendent nine years.

Board Member Franklin Roberts said he favored a $500 increase for Supt. Miller and $400 for Principal Latta but agreed to the $300 increases because of a pending 2 9 mill operating levy to be submitted to voters in November Raises of $100 a year were given three office employes. Mrs. Wmona Mahley, one of two secretaries to the superintendent, will receive $2,200 a year; Mrs. Fred Price, secretary to Principal Latta, $2,500; Mrs. Marvel Seits, visiting teacher and attendance officer, $2,600.

The board also has rehired 10 custodians. They include John A. Smith, Paul E. Schill, Hobart Kurtz, Carl F. Green, E. A. McAdams, W. J. McPeak, S. E. McPherson, M. R. Sturtz, Otto I. Ulmer and Chester A. Winkelfoos

Supt. Miller informed the board that the 1955-56 school year will begin Sept. 1, the same date as last year.

Americans on Tour In Russia Criticize Harvest Operations

LONDON, (AP)—Touring American farmers visited the Stalin collective farm near Rostov yesterday and found several things they didn't like, Moscow radio reported.

"The guests expressed various criticisms about this and certain other farms," a Tass dispatch broadcast by the radio said. "One delegate, Mr. Clark (Asa V. Clark of Pullman, Wash.) was surprised that grain should have to be cleaned twice.

"'Apparently,' he told the director of the Ros-Sal-Mash Works who was accompanying the delegation, 'your works are still not producing completely effective machines. We do not clean grain once it has been harvested by a combine.'"

After the inspection trip the Americans attended a party in their honor.

School Enrollment Hike at Mt. Gilead Expected This Fall

MOUNT GILEAD — An enrollment of 860 students is expected in the Mount Gilead School during the coming school year, according to G. R. Blose, superintendent. Enrollment the past year was 831 Blose said.

The figure is based on the enumeration of children in the school district which shows that there are 900 children between 5 and 18 years of age. The enumeration report includes children out of school on working permits and handicapped children. There are 437 boys and 463 girls in the 900 children of school age.

At the present rate of increase the school will not approach the class "A" classification for several years, Blose said. Class A schools are those having 150 boys in the upper four grades.

The board of education has hired David McCall of Columbus as industrial arts instructor. McCall received his master's degree at Ohio State University this summer. He taught in Ironton in 1948-49, but has been operating his own cabinet shop since that time.

Testing engineers have learned that the total number of typing operations performed by the average typist each year is 14,745,000

RETIRING OFFICIAL HONORED. President Eisenhower is shown as he presented the Medal of Freedom to Robert B. Anderson at a White House ceremony. Anderson was honored for his "brilliant performance" as Deputy Secretary of Defense and as Secretary of the Navy. The President told Anderson who is leaving the No 2 defense post, he expects to recall him at some future date for future service to his country.

Local Church Workers To Take Part in Camp Sychar's Program

Marion workers will take an active part in the program of Camp Sychar at Mount Vernon this year.

Rev. Clyde R. Wendell of Calvary EUB Church here is president of the sponsoring organization, known as the Ohio State Camp Meeting Association. Guest evangelists and missionaries from various denominations will be present for the daily services Aug 11-21. They will be from six states including Ohio.

The Camp Sychar setup, called "one of the largest interdenominational holiness camps in the country today," has a capacity of 1,000 provided for in tents, cottages and dormitories. There is also trailer space. Spotlighted as an added attraction of the camp grounds this year is a new large cement block cafeteria. The camp "city" includes a grocery, cook cottages and a book store.

Mrs. H. V. Falor, wife of the pastor of Oakland EUB Church in Marion, is evangelist for the young people for the camp period this year and Rev Eva Clausen and Miss Celeste Richardson of LaRue and Mrs. William Douce of Philadelphia, Pa., will be in charge of children's meetings.

Preaching services each day will be at 10 a m. and 2 30 p m. and 7:45. Annual missionary service will be Aug. 17. Missionaries present will include Rev. Eugene Erny, president of the Oriental Missionary Society, and Rev. George Warner, president of the World Gospel Mission.

Rev. Delbert Rose of Wilmore, Ky., representative of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, will be present the first Sunday; Rev. J. E Williams of Pasadena, Calif., Church of the Nazarene, will be present from Aug. 15 to the close of the camp, Rev. Claude A. Roane of Alliance, O., Friends Church, and Rev. H. Gilbert Williams of Haddonfield, N J., Methodist, will be present for the entire camp period, all as speakers

Rev. Walter Mullet of Warsaw, O., will lead singing, Rev. Don Martin of Wren, O., will be organist; Mrs. Paul Brantingham of Winona, O., pianist; Mrs Edith Gallagher of Sebring, song leader for young people and Miss Nancy Mollison of Amherst, pianist; and Rev E. E. Shultz and son, Jerome Shultz, of Avon Park, Fla., will be in charge of "ring meeting" each evening.

Crawford County Fair Termed Success; Final Program Slated

BUCYRUS — Crawford County's annual five-day fair neared a successful conclusion here today with a harness racing program tonight winding up activities

Fair Board Secretary James F Gebhardt said today he was well pleased with attendance. There were 5,304 paid gate admissions on Thursday, the fair's big day, an increase of 680 over the third day of the 1954 fair

Livestock Parade Slated

Total receipts for both gate and grandstand admissions amounted to $4,355 on Thursday, Albert Stetzel, fair board treasurer, reported.

A livestock and farm machinery parade was scheduled for this afternoon.

Unopposed for Posts

Voting on six directors will take place during the afternoon There are only two contests. In Holmes Township, Marvin E. Linn is opposed for re-election by Ellis Angene and in Auburn Township, H. A. Pfleiderer and Ray R Copeland are seeking the directorship now held by Wilson Crum, who did not seek re-election.

Candidates without opposition include Walter J. Michael, Bucyrus, owner of the Grandview harness racing track near Cleveland, Weldon Schifer, Tod Township, Arthur Loyer, Chatfield Township, and L H. Tupps, Galion

Last night's program headliners were the Junior Fair Steer Sale and the second night of harness racing

Record Chest Goal Set

CLEVELAND (AP)—The 1955 goal of the Cleveland community chest campaign, Oct. 17-27, is a record $8,110,000, it was announced yesterday. The goal is $400,000 more than the amount of money raised in last year's drive.

10 Surveys Completed For SCS Cooperators

BUCYRUS—Engineering surveys were completed here last month for 10 Soil Conservation District cooperators, Leroy Boger, U S SCS technician, reported today to the board of supervisors of the Divide Soil Conservation District.

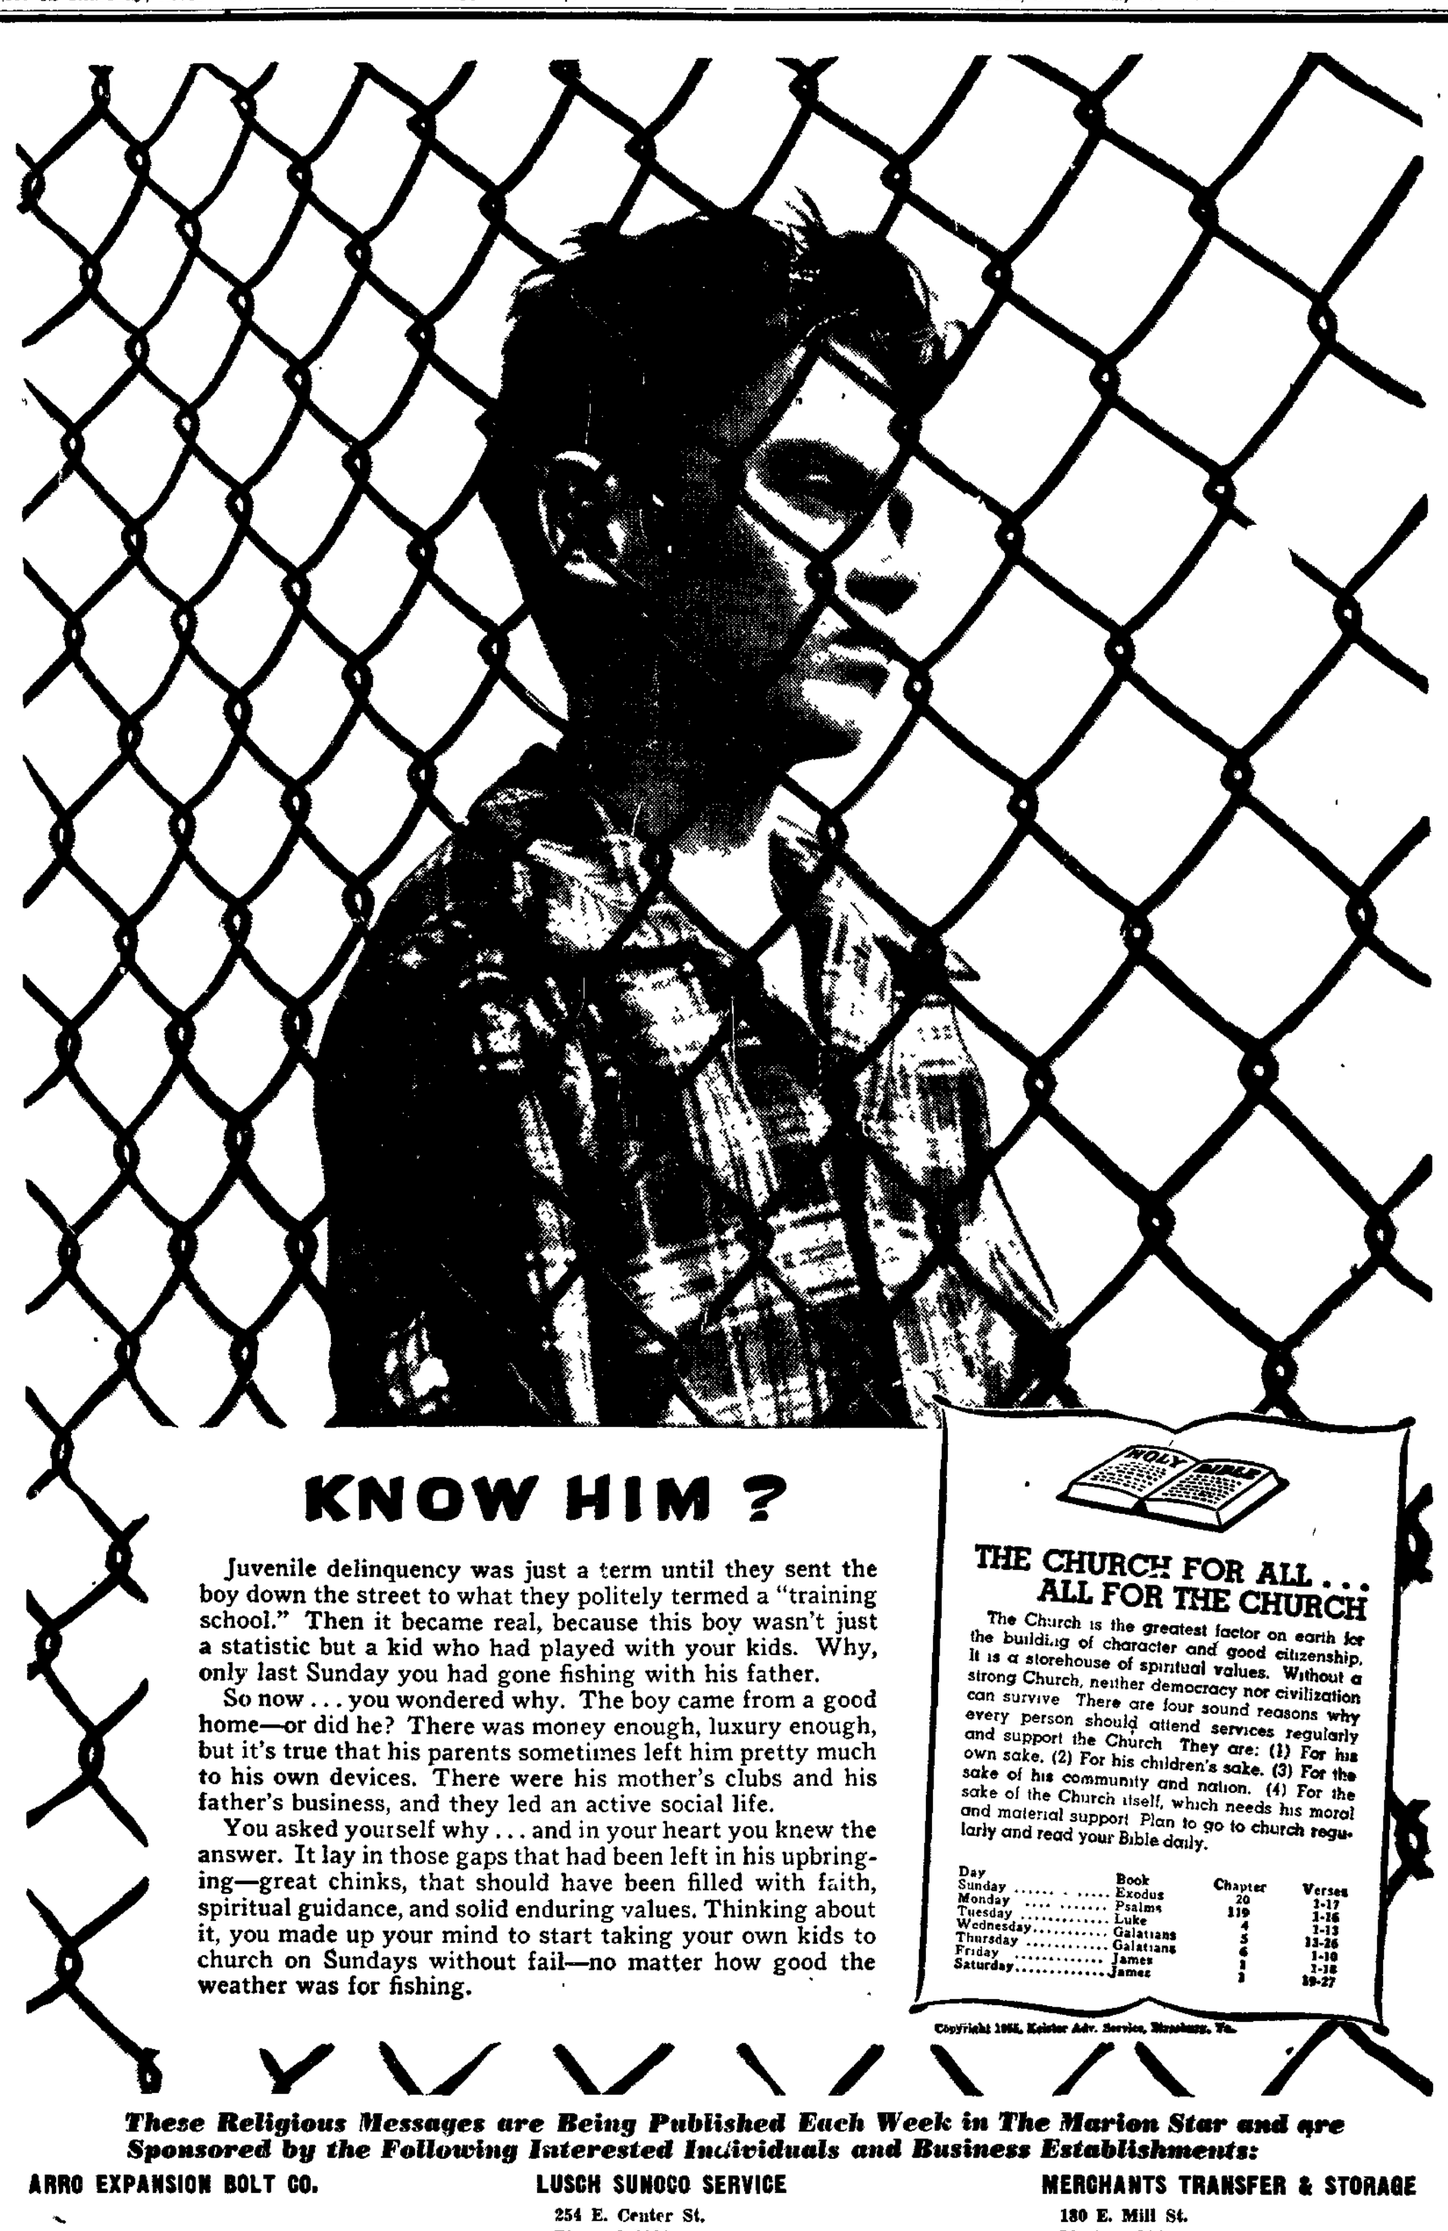
Included were topograhic surveys in preparation for a complete or systematic tile drainage system for K. H Barth, R. W. Shifer, Harry B. Stevens and Hubert Barth

Field layout measurements were completed for Robert Byrne on the Mrs. Ksenia Cook farm, near Bucyrus, and farm pond surveys were completed for Albert Margraff, Dr D G Arnold, Fred Fritz, Victor and Lewis Schott and A. R. and Virginia Payne. Boger also supervised the construction of farm ponds for Schott, Virgil Schiber and Charles Mager.

Two Motorists Fined On Charges in Galion

GALION — Two traffic cases were heard by Mayor Francis C. Schalip Friday in municipal court.

Richard Thayer, 24, of Galion, was fined $20 and costs for failure to observe a stop sign. A fine of $10 and costs was paid by Hiram Poland, 58, of near Crestline, for driving on a temporary permit without a licensed driver in the car



KNOW HIM ?

Juvenile delinquency was just a term until they sent the boy down the street to what they politely termed a "training school." Then it became real, because this boy wasn't just a statistic but a kid who had played with your kids. Why, only last Sunday you had gone fishing with his father.

So now . . . you wondered why. The boy came from a good home—or did he? There was money enough, luxury enough, but it's true that his parents sometimes left him pretty much to his own devices. There were his mother's clubs and his father's business, and they led an active social life.

You asked yourself why . . . and in your heart you knew the answer. It lay in those gaps that had been left in his upbringing—great chinks, that should have been filled with faith, spiritual guidance, and solid enduring values. Thinking about it, you made up your mind to start taking your own kids to church on Sundays without fail—no matter how good the weather was for fishing.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Rites Held for Mother Of Former Local Priest

A solemn requiem mass was offered in Holy Redeemer Catholic Church at Portsmouth Thursday morning for Mrs. Henry P. Wiggins, who died unexpectedly Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Wiggins was the mother of Rev. Urban Wiggings, former assistant pastor of St. Mary Church here.

Another son, Rev. Leo Wiggins, pastor of St. Francis Xavier parish at Malvern, was celebrant of the mass, and Rev. Urban Wiggins was deacon. Bishop Michael J. Ready presided at the funeral mass and gave final absolution. Rev. Urban Wiggins is diocesan tribunal and assistant pastor of Holy Cross parish in Columbus.

Surviving also are two other sons, Jerome of Portsmouth and Cyril of New York City, and a daughter, Mrs. Collette L. Steahly of Dayton.

IT COULD BE WORSE. The First Presbyterian Church in Sterling, Ill., has this hot weather thought for you to mull over.

Committee Chosen To Arrange Local Bargain Days Sale

Appointment of a steering committee for an "Old Fashioned Bargain Days" sale promotion to be held in October was announced Friday by John Head, chairman of the Retail Board of Managers of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

General chairman for the steering committee will be William Seay and his vice chairmen will be Richard Gage and Head.

Other members of the steering committee will be the chairmen of the various subcommittees. They are: Al Hamburg, finance committee; Don Quaintance, transportation; Samuel Babich, atmosphere and promotion; and Charles Osterholt, publicity and advertising.

Appointment of the committee members was announced at a meeting held Friday noon at the Hotel Harding.

Plans for the event will be further developed at a meeting of the Retail Promotion Committee of the Chamber to be held Monday noon at the hotel.

Property Worth $12,349 Stolen Here During July

Recovery of some $10,184 out of a total of $12,349 worth of property stolen during July was reported today by Marion Police Chief Thomas B. Coon.

During the month there were two robberies in which $2,703 worth of property was stolen; six breakins with theft of $225 worth of property; 20 petty larcenies in which property valued at $575 was stolen; and five automobile thefts with the loss placed at $8,843, Coon said.

Of the five automobiles stolen, four were recovered by city police and the other was recovered by police in another city. Marion police also recovered two automobiles stolen in other cities.

Man Lets Out Tarantula, Bar Patrons Leave—Fast

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP)—It cost 2nd Lt. Charles A. Housman $50 to introduce a friend to some cocktail lounge companions.

Police said Housman ordered a drink in a Laguna Beach bar and offered to introduce the friend to his neighbors.

He opened a cigar box and produced a tarantula, with a string for a leash.

The other customers—to use the Marine Corps expression—moved out smartly.

Police destroyed the evidence, and Housman was fined $50 Friday for endangering public health and safety, and for drunkenness.

Rocket Explosion From Crashed Jet Wounds Ohio Boy

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Jack McClanahan, 18, has some wounds today to recall his curiosity.

He was looking down in a 5-foot crater yesterday when a rocket exploded and scraps hit him in the chest. The flack was removed at Clinton Memorial Hospital and his condition was reported as good.

The crater was created when two F86 Sabre Jets collided in midair. Both pilots escaped injury and one, Lt. Col. Howard Askelson, 34, managed to land his plane at his base, Wright-Patterson near Dayton.

Lt. John Goodwill, 26, bailed out. The plane made a 25-foot crater in a corn field and parts made smaller holes. Twenty four rockets the plane was carrying continued to go off for more than an hour. One of these injured young McClanahan.

He said he just started to turn around and leave the scene when the explosion occurred. Others had left shortly before.

'Ding Dong Daddy' Through for Good With Opposite Sex

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The one-time "Ding Dong Daddy of the D Line", Francis Van Wie, insists he's through with marriage for good.

The former San Francisco street car conductor got around to divorcing his first wife Friday. She is Mabel Joyce Van Wie. He charged desertion. Van Wie has had nothing but trouble with women, mostly widows, since No. 1 deserted him in 1940, and after his 16th marriage in 1953 he served a five months term for bigamy.

Van Wie, 69, is on seven years probation with instructions not to remarry in that time. Superior Judge Samuel R. Blake mentioned this restraint Friday, but Van Wie looked up and said, quietly:

"I don't want to get married again. I just want to die in peace."

Activity Slowed At Play Areas In Hot Weather

Unusually hot weather during the last week virtually brought activites in Marion city playgrounds to a standstill.

Recreation director Paul O'Rourke said that track meets scheduled for the four playgrounds during the week were postponed indefinitely because it was felt it would be unwise to hold such strenuous exercise during hot weather.

For the coming week, activities in the arts and crafts program will center on ceramic arts and participants will make clay dishes, ash trays, pots and so on.

The arts and crafts supervisor will be in Lincoln Park on Monday and Friday; Glenwood Park on Tuesday, and George Washington Park on Wednesday and Thursday, O'Rourke said.

With the track meets called off during the last week, the most popular activities in the playgrounds were the various table games, he added.

If the hot weather continues next week, emphasis will again be in such games which require no strenuous physical activity, he said.

A checker tournament is planned and other table game tournaments will be held, he said.

There is also a ping pong tournament scheduled for next week O'Rourke said.

Joe Dimaggio and Jimmie Foxx each were chosen most valuable player of the American League three times, DiMaggio while with the Yankees and Foxx with Philadelphia and Boston.

Pouring on Water

In many communities, hot - weather uses of water now are restricted to conserve the available supply. In some of them, the supply is at the disappearing point.

In most communities, work either is in progress or being contemplated to increase the available supply, in view of the enormous per capita increases in the use of water. Corresponding increases have taken place in the industrial use of water.

The water problem is not how to deal with an over-all shortage but how to distribute the supply that exists in all sources. Fears of water shortage, except in a few parts of the United States, are not founded on a lack of sources but on failure to exploit the known sources fully.

The degree of exploitation has not kept pace, generally, with the accelerating rate of use. It is an educated guess that the daily draw on the supply this year may exceed 200 billion gallons, compared with the Geological Survey's report of only 170 billion gallons a day in 1950. About half the daily water use is for irrigation.

Measures to combat water shortages must take into consideration the peculiarity of this indispensable commodity — that it cannot be saved by not using it. It can only be made to last longer and serve more needs. The national supply, in the opinion of those who have studied it, is theoretically adequate for the needs of at least another century, if it is distributed equitably.

One of the principal inequalities is the tremendous use of water for irrigation; some of this water could be used to greater advantage for other purposes. It is not good long - range policy, in other words, to divert enormous quantities of water to agricultural purposes in areas unsuitable for farming.

Water policy, as President Eisenhower noted in his budget message last January, needs the benefit of coordinated information and planning. Water has been handled on a catch-as-catch-can basis, with each community doing what seemed expedient and feasible — and "never missing the water until the well ran dry."

President Plus Congress

A new chapter has been added to the record of executive-legislature relations by President Eisenhower's attitude toward the 84th Congress.

He has let it be known he was disappointed about some of the things Congress did not do this year in its first session. But he has not castigated its leadership or its membership.

On the contrary, he has tempered his mild criticism of what he considers were errors with warm praise for what he considers were sound and constructive actions. With the exception of one brief exchange of partisan sniping with Sen. Johnson, majority leader of the Senate, the President has lived by his rule that the executive has no business reflecting discredit on a coordinate branch of the government.

He has done this after an era in which presidential criticism of Congress was picked up and echoed by general criticism until there was cause to fear for the prestige of the legislative branch. Both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman went out of their way to quarrel with individual congressmen and belittle Congress as a whole when their judgment was not upheld by legislative action.

President Truman was willing to exploit his differences with Congress as a political issue in the 1948 presidential election, at the expense of undermining the prestige of the legislative branch for partisan advantage.

President Eisenhower was committed at the outset of his administration to an attitude of respect for Congress, both as an institution and as a group of fellow citizens. He has been as respectful of its rights and prerogatives as he has been of the rights and prerogatives of the judiciary. With few exceptions, he has been treated with respect by representatives and senators of both parties.

The relationship has been one of the bright spots in the long record of bickering and backbiting in the executive-legislative relationship.

Mediation at Pugwash

The colony of midsummer thinkers being maintained by Cyrus S. Eaton, the Cleveland industrialist, at his summer home in Pugwash, Nova Scotia, may never come up with an idea worth remembering. But Eaton's guests have given themselves the benefit of their doubts—and that justifies the effort.

They have stepped off the treadmills of their jobs as executives, financiers, teachers, administrators, writers and artists to stand to one side for a little while and observe what is going on. The Eaton retreat in Nova Scotia has its counterpart in a similar experiment being conducted in California by Herbert Hoover.

Experiment? Is it experimental for Americans to think? Is it significant that their only chance to do any thinking in the companionship of their peers must be contrived for them by artificial means—that most important people in the United States are so busy playing the role of men and women of action that it is newsworthy when they abandon it for the role of meditators?

Perhaps there will be time some evening to wonder at Pugwash why thinking went out of style in the first place.

Religion In and On the Job

A Strong Team

By EUGENE CARR

There is a growing respect these days for the person who makes a sincere attempt to apply a definite set of religious principles to everyday life.

Unfortunately, this has not always been true. Clergymen and professional religionists, for the most part, have been held in high regard over the years, but the layman who "worked" at his religion has not fared so well at times. Too often, he was the object of derision.

Today there is wholesome faith in the individual who carries his religion into his job as well as his church. More people are committed to this practice, and, therefore, have a deeper appreciation for those who are on the same team.

It is gratifying to find so many applying God's laws for mankind in their homes, in daily occupations, and in social contacts, not merely listening to sermons on Sunday mornings. At least, they are conscious of God's presence in their lives, and this, alone, is encouraging. If it were not so, this old world would be next to intolerable.

So, the layman who looks to his trade or profession through the framework of his religion, rather than as something separate and apart from it, has entered a new era of respect and esteem. And, not only does he gain a tremendous personal satisfaction from the experience but he prompts others to have the courage to follow in his footsteps.

Of course, one's religious faith isn't always evident. Some people are reticent to witness to their beliefs. They hesitate to talk religion. This should not be the case, because most of us do not hesitate to express ourselves on politics, economic conditions, how to raise children, or any number of other important matters in our lives. Surely, religion is just as important.

Once the "ice has been broken" it is stimulating to find a firm commitment to God at work in the lives of many with whom we associate daily. We find it's a stronger team than we thought. Sometimes, we make this discovery where we least expect.

A well known businessman surprised a roomful of friends not long ago by saying he never leaves his home in the morning to go to his office that he does not ask God to guide and direct him in his day's activities.

A young lady, only a few years out of school, was asked recently how she was getting along with her job. "Fine!" she replied. "I feel very grateful. God is good to me."

A group of office workers pause for a moment of silent prayer each day before beginning their lunch together. The hubbub of a busy company cafeteria comes to a temporary halt as these men and women take their places at a large roundtable.

It's like a rare disease. You think, perhaps, some of your friends and acquaintances have never heard of it because they do not talk about it. Then, you discover the "disease" is not so rare after all. Most of the people you know have it.

New Atom Smasher

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—They are trying something new in atom smashing at the University of Michigan. Eight midwest universities—Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Purdue, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa State, are sending scientists to work on a model atom smasher combining two old principles which never have been used together.

The model will use a fixed magnetic field through which the atomic particles will move. Then oddly-shaped magnets will be stationed along the way to keep them on the track. They hope to produce more particles and move them faster than in present machines.

Daily Bible Thought

"And he ran on before and climbed up into a sycamore tree to see him."—Luke 19:4. Zaccheus already practiced many Christian virtues. Though wealthy, Christ did not advise him to sell his possessions. Only once did Christ prescribe so drastic a step. It is not unchristian to retain working capital. Just the contrary.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: When dog days come, can falling leaves be far behind? I ask you. This afternoon I raked up a basketful of dead leaves under the red maple in the side yard.

We have been sweating out the hot spell here in as good grace as we can muster. If this weather doesn't melt a couple inches off the glaciers I will miss my guess about what is going on. By the way, whatever became of that fellow out in Kansas who had the theory a few years ago that this is the beginning of a hot stretch that will change a lot more things around than the nuclear physicists ever dreamed of doing?

The thing your aunt and I wonder about is what is going on in the other hemisphere while we are melting our glacial cap in this one. Are the winters in South America getting more severe as ours get milder? Are their summers burning up the pampas and drying up the rain forests in Brazil?

Last night we conducted an experiment in air-conditioning. That fan we had bought to take the cooking fumes out of the kitchen in the old house and never had installed was lying around idle so I hooked it up and put it in the bedroom window, just like it says in the ads.

It really set up a blast of outgoing air and I was feeling encouraged, until I noted that I had raised the temperature in the bedroom from 85 to 93 while dropping the temperature in the hallway from 85 to 83. Tonight I am going to do what I should have done at the beginning; I am going to go to bed on the chaise on the porch and forget the fan. It was down to 70 degrees out there this morning, and your aunt, who is more realistic about her comfort than I am, was refreshed after a good night's sleep. She has volunteered to sleep on the floor tonight, which is a stirring testimonial of her high regard for me and my comfort.

Did I ever tell you what your grandfather used to do in weather like this? He kept a basin of cool water by the bed and soaked his beard in it periodically during the night — claimed the water evaporated and kept his face cool.

I have not read any of the books you sent me but will keep them until I am in the mood for vicarious experiences. I am also putting aside magazines until I get in that mood. The only thing I keep abreast of in hot weather is newspapers. I have completely lost track of what is going on inside the gawk box. Matter of fact, something has gone sour in the TV rigging on the roof, and until that is fixed the box will not be much good.

I would like to hear your reactions on the case of the businessman who shaded his ethics as Air Force Secretary a trifle and had to quit under fire. You used to argue what this country needed was a professional government, instead of a government manned by people with other things on their minds, and I used to argue that in a representative democracy we should be governed by all kinds of people with all kinds of backgrounds and viewpoints. Remember?

We are getting our rakes ready for fall here and picking out pumpkins to be frosted. It won't be long now. Meanwhile, regards all around.

Ike's Prediction Fulfilled

By David Lawrence

President Eisenhower's prediction before last year's congressional elections that, if the Democratic party were given control of Congress, "a cold war of partisan politics" could ensue, has been borne out by the record.

Lawrence

Though Eisenhower did not refer to the speech of Oct. 8, 1954, delivered at Denver, urging the American people to elect a Republican Congress, the President at his press conference on Thursday of this week made almost the identical points in revealing his disappointment over the Democratic party's behavior.

There has been an impression that Eisenhower in his Denver address — which was made before a Republican precinct day rally — had reference to a "cold war" solely in foreign affairs. Actually his fears concerned almost entirely a "cold war" in the field of domestic legislation.

THIS IS EXACTLY what the President said in his 1954 address:

"We must continue to foster the growth of a free economy to provide more jobs and higher living standards.

"We must continue our efforts to cut the cost of government, so we can cut taxes still more.

"We must continue each year to improve our peacetime farm program.

"We must have a vast new highway program.

"We must expand our foreign trade and American investment abroad. We must expand markets for America's farms and factories, if we are to keep prosperity within our own land.

"We must write into law a national water resources program.

"We must help our people meet their critical health and medical needs, while repudiating socialization of medicine.

"We must find ways to encourage communities to provide the schoolhouses they need, and to improve opportunities for their school teachers.

"WE MUST BUILD a new and effective reserve program for our armed forces.

"We must begin to unravel the confused relations between the Federal state and local governments, and make still more improvements in the organization of the Federal government.

"We must drive through partisan obstructions to achieve statehood for Hawaii, to lower the voting age in federal elections, and to make our promised changes in the labor-management laws.

"We must continue our historic advances in the vital area of civil rights.

"We must vigorously push all constructive measures for promoting world peace, always strong and secure, but always fair and conciliatory.

"Now, my friends, a cold war of partisan politics between the Congress and the executive branch won't give us these goals.

"And this brings up a political fact of life. You know perfectly well that you just can't have one car with two drivers at the steering wheel and expect to end up any place but in the ditch — especially when the drivers are set on going in different directions.

"BY THE SAME TOKEN, you cannot have efficient federal government when the Congress wants to follow one philosophy of government and the executive branch another.

"In our system of government, progress is made when the leaders of the executive branch and the majority party of the Congress are members of the same political party. The unsurpassed record of the 83rd Congress (Republican-controlled in both houses) is shining evidence of this truth. Moreover, in no other way can Americans hold one party and one group of people responsible either for success or lack of success.

"History shows that when the executive and legislative branches are politically in conflict, politics in Washington runs riot. In these conditions, the public good goes begging while politics is played for politics' sake."

EISENHOWER at his Thursday press conference referred back to these same points. All but one were on the domestic side. They were included in a list of thirteen which he said he had outlined in his "State of the Union" message last January.

"But of these thirteen," Eisenhower told his press conference, "only military reserves, housing legislation, mutual-security appropriations and minimum wage were enacted into law, and some of those, in my opinion, with provisions that were not wise. There are four of the remaining nine that I think are absolutely vital to our future . . ."

The President didn't refer again to the "cold war in partisan politics," but everybody knows that's exactly what impeded his legislative program this year.

THE DEMOCRATS played politics, zealously blocking needed bills and wasting time and money on politically inspired investigations.

Eisenhower was moderate in his phrases. He said merely, "It would be completely futile on my part to say that in this field, in this domestic field, that I believe we have been as successful in this past Congress as we should have been."

The Denver prophecy came true. America has had an irresponsible government. This means that the American people are unable today to fix the responsibility upon either major political party for the whole governmental operation. But in 1956 the electorate will be asked to remove this barrier and elect either an all-Democratic or an all-Republican team, with one party doing the driving instead of two.

New Competition in Navy

By DAVID BARNETT

WASHINGTON

There's a new sense of competition among Navy brass.

And Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas thinks it's a fine thing. It's no revolution and no reorganization, he says, but recent moves to bring bright young officers to the top will be good for the service.

Secretary Thomas, who just returned from a trip to the West Coast, says the "new blood" program has been "well received all over the country."

The first step in the program was the naming of Adm. Arleigh Burke as Chief of Naval Operations at the age of 53. Secretary Thomas next suggested in a public charge to the Naval Selections Board that bright young officers and outstanding specialists be considered for top promotions even if other officers with more seniority were passed by.

Secretary Thomas, in an interview, pointed out that "our three and four stars (vice admirals and admirals) had aged up—they were 56 or above."

The new program, he said, is designed to get the age distribution "back into balance."

He noted that in the next year and a half, just five or six of the 32 top Navy brass would be in their early 50's.

The preponderance of oldtimers at the top always follows a war, he said. "We're just breaking the cycle."

It has been suggested that the new program was designed to give greater civilian control over the service by forcing into retirement some of the old line officers with tremendous personal prestige.

Secretary Thomas said the question of civilian control "doesn't have anything to do with it."

He said he could see "no reason for a flood" of voluntary retirements of senior officers.

The new program, he indicated, would result in harder work all along the line.

The "older people" will realize the system is competitive, he said, and will "work harder to keep their assignments."

The younger officers will be encouraged to work hard by the possibility that they "can be picked up and pushed to the top," he explained. The secretary added:

"There won't be any inducement to coast in a job."

Safety First at 80

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—G. W. Wilkinson is 80 and wants no part of automobiles. "I don't feel safe," he says.

When he wants to get out, he rides his motorcycle—just as he has been doing for 53 years. The only accident he's had was when he was 77. A car hit him but he turned his wheel so he was only "knocked across the street."

"Only trouble was," he explains, "another car was coming the other way and knocked me against a fence, broke my nose, cracked three ribs and split my head open. But I got right back on my motor when I got out of the hospital."

They Go by Air

DETROIT (AP)—Some Detroit people have found that the trip to the airport is the longest part of the trip to New York. They say they can take an air taxi from Detroit City Airport, make a 90-mile trip to Cleveland, land at the Municipal airport there and catch the New York plane.

Through airlines make their Detroit stops at the Willow Run Airport. The passengers say the 90-mile trip to Cleveland saves time.

Educational Project

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—When police make arrests in their efforts to control illegal gambling, they find that Union Place is a good hunting ground. When a squad of officers with cameras moved in and started to take pictures, horse-players reported the bookmakers moved out rapidly. The officers said they were practicing as part of a course in photography.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Broadway's Threat to Peace

A famous New York restaurant man has sued another for $1,100,000 and offers for the movie rights are in order. If these two cold war boys get into court, Broadway's search for a show with more laughs than "Seven Year Itch," "Mr. Roberts" and "South Pacific" will be over

The plaintiff sued partly because his competitor showed a photo of him on his TV show. This establishes him as the first person in America to object to his face getting onto a TV screen. We anticipate the court examination of the plaintiff:

Q—You are the plaintiff here?

A—If I ain't, somebody has tampered with the script.

Q—You say you heard your competitor remark on TV that he wished he had as much money as you owed?

A—It was black and white video but he seemed to say it in color.

Q—Since when was it considered an insult to be accused of owing money? Is it not a fact that debt is the very basis of our national economy and that everybody in America owes everybody else in our modern economic setup?

A—You stick to economics and I'll stick to my legal advisers.

Q—With millions fighting to get into a TV picture why should you object?

Q—Do you always listen to your competitor's TV show?

A—I was looking for a horse opera and found myself pursued by a one-man posse.

Q—What's your favorite TV program?

A—I like "Medic," but not done in a night club with me on the table.

Q—How do you feel about restaurant TV shows?

A—They are okay if you like talent scouting with your soup.

A—The $100,000 is a cover charge.

THE DEFENDANT TAKES the stand.

Q—It is alleged that when a guest showed a photo of the plaintiff, you asked, "How did that picture get in here?" Why? Had you barred the plaintiff's face from your club?

A—I regard a cold war as a cold war.

Q—If Russia and America can coexist can't you and the plaintiff?

A—Not even with branch restaurants in Geneva.

Judge (abruptly)—I didn't get a good table for this case and am reaching a verdict with the cocktail, without waiting for the terrapin under glass. Just when Ike goes to Geneva and lifts the hope of world peace this has to happen! I refer the suit to the United Nations, the Security Council, Dag Hammarskjold and the International Commission for the Control of Nightlife Rivalries.

The plaintiff—Who gets the check for all this?

Judge—That will have to go to the Supreme Court as part of the regular dinner or a la carte.

FRANKIE SINATRA plans to do a western. . . . With a background in the old western frontier town of "Croonstone"? (Heigh ho, bobby soxers!)

The barbershop laugh of the year would be heard if Sal Maglie, switched to the Indians by the Giants, wound up in the world series.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — Ivangorod, great Russian fortress on the Vistula River 55 miles southeast of Warsaw, had been occupied by Austro-German troops, it was announced by the Austrian war office.

Two Haitien natives were shot down by American forces while resisting an attempt to disarm them at Port au Prince. American forces captured the gun boat Pacifique, Haitien warship.

20 YEARS AGO — An extensive publicity campaign conducted by Marion civic organizations to aid in promoting the proposed $200,750 city hall bond issue was under way here with members of five groups in the field on a house-to-house canvass to circulate literature and ask voters to support the bond issue.

Marion Eagles planned to make a bid for the 1936 state convention of the order at the Sunday morning session of the 1935 convention which was to open Friday, Aug. 9, at Dayton.

A 37-year-old Marion man died in City hospital of a gunshot wound received four days earlier following a quarrel in a penny ante poker game over 10 cents.

10 YEARS AGO — The story of how in three years the previously nearly rural community of Oak Ridge, Tenn., had grown to a city with a population of nearly 75,000—fifth largest in Tennessee—was released by the Army following a Washington announcement of atomic bomb production. The super bombs just released on the Japanese were being produced there and the atomic bomb project in Tennessee was camouflaged under the name of the Manhattan Engineer District, with Clinton Engineer Works the name of the plant in which the bombs were being produced.

Four more Japanese cities were left in a mass of flames by 580 Superfortresses and their destruction appeared certain, returning crewmen reported.

Sen. Hiram W. Johnson of California, militant opponent of the League of Nations and the San Francisco charter for a United Nations organization, died in Naval Hospital, Washington, at 79.

Secretary Stimson predicted that the atomic bomb would "prove a tremendous aid" in shortening the war with Japan. The war secretary made his statement as the army reported that an "impenetrable cloud of dust and smoke" choked Hiroshima after it was hit by the new weapon from the air.

Maj. Richard Ira Bong, farm boy who became America's aerial ace of aces by downing 40 Japanese planes while emerging uncoatned from over 500 combat hours, was killed in the explosion of a jet P-80 Shooting Star following a take-off at Burbank, Calif.

Ohio Payrolls Up 9 Per Cent Over June, '54

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's total payrolls climbed 1 per cent in the month of June and were 9 per cent higher than in the same period of last year, Ohio State University's Bureau of Business Research reported today.

The bureau said June employment and man-hours worked also were up 1 per cent from the previous month's level, and were 2 and 4 per cent higher, respectively, over the 12-month period.

Construction and food products firms, among the state's industrial categories, had the largest May-to-June increases in payrolls, each with 7 per cent. From June to June, the food companies' payrolls rose 4 per cent, but the Ohio construction industry's payrolls showed a 16 per cent decline. That decline was the largest in the bureau's monthly report on employment conditions.

Biggest June-to-June increases in payrolls were listed for textile firms, 27 per cent, and metal products manufacturers, 26 per cent. Largest drop in payrolls from May to June was a 13 per cent decline reported for vehicle firms.

Preliminary earnings figures for June, for major Ohio cities, with the change from May, as reported by the bureau, included: Akron $77.84, down 3 per cent; Canton, $79.46, down fractionally; Cincinnati, $74.04, up 1 per cent; Cleveland, $84.48, down 3 per cent; Columbus, $74.13, up 2 per cent; Toledo, $82.81, down 5 per cent; Youngstown $80.60, up 1 per cent. Figures for Dayton were not available.

3 Investment Firms Bid for City Bond Issue

Thee bids for the purchase of Marion City bond issues totaling $59,000 were received before the closing deadline at noon Friday.

City Auditor Elmer Shaw said that the best of the three bids was submitted by Sweeney, Cartwright and Company of Columbus. Their offer was to pay a premium of $184.45, making the total purchase price of the bonds $59,684.45 with an interest rate of two and three-fourths per cent per year.

Other bids were: McDonald Co. of Cleveland, premium, $208.25 and interest rate of three per cent; and Breed and Harrison, Inc., of Cincinnati, premium of $11.90 and interest rate of three per cent.

Shaw said that the difference in the interest rate would more than make up the difference in the premium offered between the Sweeney, Cartwright and Co. bid and the McDonald Co. bid.

It was the second time the bonds had been offered for sale. At the previous offering the city received no bids.

The bonds are for three street improvement projects — curb and gutters and paving of Universal Ave. from Joseph St. to Fairground St.; curbs and gutters on Pennsylvania Ave. from Church St. to Indiana Ave.; and curbs, gutters and paving on Council St. from Main St. to Park Dr.

All the bonds are to be matured in five years.

She will also visit the local recruiting station on Aug. 26.

$500 Damage Caused by Fire At Local Home

Loss estimated at over $500 resulted in two fires which Marion firemen were called upon to extinguish Friday night.

A loss of $500 resulted when fire started in a clothes closet in the living room at the Charles Blankenship home at 365 Mound St. at 10:43 p.m. The fire burned the closet contents and scorched doors, ceiling and walls of the living room.

Origin of the fire has not been determined. Firemen from the Central and W. Center St. stations answered the call.

At 11:03 p.m. firemen from the Central station were called to the McDaniel Motor Co. at 309 W. Center St. where a short circuit in the wiring caused a fire in an automobile. Loss was estimated at $5.

Theater Attractions

Following is a summary of the motion pictures that will be presented at theaters in Marion next week.

—Palace—

"Interrupted Melody," co-starring Glenn Ford and Eleanor Parker, and "Moonfleet" with Stewart Granger, George Sanders, Joan Greenwood and Viveca Lindfors, will be a double feature billing Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace Theater.

"Interrupted Melody" is based on the life of the famed Metropolitan Opera star, Marjorie Lawrence, who faced what appeared to be an unsurmountable tragedy in her life and overcame it. At the height of her career, she was stricken with infantile paralysis, a sudden tragedy which brought her to the verge of suicide.

The unfailing love and devotion of her doctor husband and the heroic courage of Miss Lawrence herself enabled her to begin a new career by singing to servicemen who, like herself, were confined to wheel chairs. At last, with her husband at her side, she makes a triumphal return to the stage of the Metropolitan Opera.

"Moonfleet" relates the story of a reckless 18th century English rake who becomes a smuggler off the desolate and windswept Dorsetshire coast at Moonfleet, and whose adventures as the fearless leader of a group of cutthroat brigands and romantic interludes with three beautiful women culminate in an even stranger adventure with a boy who comes to worship him.

Stewart Granger is a man whose embittered pride has turned him into a smuggler.

Billed for Wednesday through Saturday is another double feature, "Foxfire," co-starring Jane Russell, Jeff Chandler and Dan Duryea, and "Tarzan's Hidden Jungle" with Gordon Scott, Vera Miles and Peter Van Eyck.

The story in "Foxfire" concerns a wealthy eastern socialite who meets and falls in love with a rugged western mining engineer while vacationing at an Arizona dude ranch. Their personalities, so different in nature, begin to clash almost at once.

The latter picture tells of the attempt of an unscrupulous white hunter to drive the game from a hitherto protected area for his own enrichment. He almost succeeds but for the timely intervention of Tarzan.

—Ohio—

"Mister Roberts," the comedy sensation of the Broadway stage which was adapted to film, is the current attraction at the Ohio Theater.

Starring Henry Fonda, James Cagney, William Powell and Jack Lemmon, it will play through Wednesday.

The story takes place aboard a navy cargo ship, the USS Reluctant, which has been given the nickname of "The Bucket" by the crew. Lt. Roberts, second in command, yearns for more active sea duty and in his efforts to transfer into combat duty has brought on the displeasure of the captain, portrayed by James Cagney.

The captain, eager for promotions and honors, refuses to relinquish his hold on Mister Roberts despite the combined efforts of the crew and the other officers to persuade him otherwise.

Henry Fonda portrays the title role while William Powell is seen as "Doc" and Jack Lemmon as Ensign Pulver.

A double feature starting Thursday will include "The Man From Laramie," in Cinemascope and technicolor, and "Bring Your Smile Along," a musical in technicolor.

The former stars James Stewart, Arthur Kennedy, Donald Crisp, Cathy O'Donnell, Alex Nicol and Aline MacMahon, and heading the cast in the latter are Frankie Laine, Keefe Brasselle and Constance Towers.

In the former, James Stewart Portrays a man who has trekked a thousand weary miles to find and kill the man who sold Apaches the repeating rifles that resulted in a massacre and death of his brother. It shows him as he was manhandled, lassoed and dragged through a campfire by the toughbitten range riders of the powerful Barb Ranch.

"Bring Your Smile Along" traces the fortunes of a pair of entertainers who rocket from burlesque to Broadway with the assistance of a charming blonde high school teacher who would rather write lyrics.

A sneak preview will be shown next Saturday night.

—North Drive-In—

"Big House, U.S.A.," a story of prisons and the men who inhabit them, will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the North Drive-In Theater. A first-run attraction, it stars Broderick Crawford, Ralph Meeker, Reed Hadley, Lon Chaney, William Talman, Roy Roberts, Charles Bronson, Peter Votrian and Randy Farr.

The story is concerned with a group of prisoners at Casabel Island prison who plan to make a break. Headed by Broderick Crawford, they hide contraband underwater equipment which they use to take them from a fall-out exit of a boiler into the surrounding bay. Then they swim several hundred yards underwater to a waiting boat. The escape is clever, daring and ruthless.

Opening Wednesday to show the remainder of the week will be "The Magnificent Matador," an exciting drama of the bull ring, co-starring Anthony Quinn and Maureen O'Hara.

Filmed in Cinemascope and color, Anthony Quinn portrays "The Number One" matador, who has excelled everyone in courage in the ring. But he lives in fear of his own secret shame, a sir unknown to his millions of fans.

He meets a rich and beautiful woman who has never been refused what she has wanted, but before he can claim her, he must conquer his own secret shame.

ANTHONY QUINN and Maureen O'Hara co-star in "The Magnificent Matador," drama of the bull ring, which will be a first-run attraction Wednesday through Saturday at the North Drive-In Theater. It is in Cinemascope and color.

—South Drive-In—

"Secret of the Incas," technicolor adventure drama starring Charlton Heston, Robert Young, Nicole Maurey, Thomas Mitchell and Yma Sumac, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the South Drive-In Theater.

The film relates a tale of violence and greed with a group of people fighting over a long lost treasure worth millions of dollars. Charlton Heston is seen as an adventurer whose one aim in life is to gain a fortune by whatever means are necessary. When he gets his chance to seize the Indian treasure he takes it, but there are many obstacles in his way.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday is "Flight to Tangier," in which Jack Palance, Joan Fontaine, Corinne Calvet and Robert Douglas are starred.

Set against the city of Tangier, an outpost of dangerous black market operations on the North African coast, the film concerns the vicious activities of a gang of international smugglers and Iron Curtain representatives who are opposed by a small group of American agents. The story centers on the shady activities of a group of people bound up with the fate of a mysterious plane from behind the Iron Curtain.

"Reap the Wild Wind," a story of the sea filmed in technicolor, will be shown Thursday through Saturday. Starred are John Wayne, Ray Milland, Susan Hayward and Paulette Goddard.

It relates a tale of the piratical salvagers who plunder the ships that go to pieces on the treacherous Florida reefs.

—State—

"Carolina Cannonball" starring Judy Canova and "Savage Horde" with Wild Bill Elliott, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State Theater.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "A Woman's Face" and "The Strawberry Roan." The former stars Joan Crawford and Melvyn Douglas, and heading the cast in the latter is Gene Autry.

Burt Lancaster and Jean Peters are stars of the technicolor adventure film, "Apache," which will be the main attraction of a double feature Thursday and Friday. Completing the billing will be "Loophole" with Barry Sullivan and Dorothy Malone.

Saturday only, the attractions will be two western films, "Man From Colorado" and "Riders of the Purple Sage."

Mayor Cries 'Politics' In Suit Against Contract

DOVER, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Harry Stucky says a taxpayers suit challenging a municipal insurance contract was designed to "damage me politically."

Dover insurance man Albert W. Riffle, whose bid for providing insurance on the Municipal Light plant was rejected, filed the suit. He charged there was collusion on the part of the city board of control, of which the Democratic mayor is a member, in awarding the contract to an insurance agency owned by Eugene H. Hanhart, state Democratic chairman.

Stucky, in a prepared statement yesterday, said Riffle's bid and two others were lower than Hanhart's bid of $10,838.

"But the other three bidders did not comply with specifications for the insurance," Stucky said.

GLENN FORD comforts Eleanor Parker when she collapses in a dramatic scene in "Interrupted Melody," lyrical love story based on the life of a famed singer, Marjorie Lawrence. In Cinemascope and color, it will be one attraction of a double feature Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace Theater.

'DOC' MIXES HIS home-made brew of Scotch whisky while Mister Roberts and Ensign Pulver watch intently in a scene from the film production of the stage success, "Mister Roberts," current attraction at the Ohio Theater. Henry Fonda plays the title role, William Powell is "Doc" and Pulver is played by Jack Lemmon.

$4 Not Worth Trouble, Bandit Gives Up on Idea

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Unlike beggars bandits can be choosers.

A gunman entered Taft's Cleaners Friday, showed clerk Mary Macheski a revolver and asked for the firm's money.

She opened the cash register. The bandit looked in and saw only four single dollars.

"Is that all?" he asked.

"Yes," she said.

He turned on his heel and walked out the door without the cash, saying "I'll be back later."

Named Museum Curator

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Leah Hilton, long active in the Seneca County Historical and Archeological Society, was appointed curator of the Seneca County Museum yesterday. She succeeds the late Martin Walker Smith, history professor emeritus of Heidelberg College.

Teller Pleads Innocent To Bank Robbing Charge

CLEVELAND (AP)—Louis E. Teller, 27, pleaded innocent in federal court yesterday to charges of conspiracy to rob a bank. He will be arraigned later on a charge that he robbed another Cleveland bank of $23,000.

Three younger men were arraigned with Teller on the conspiracy charges. Philip C. Elia, 19, and Thomas R. Coletta, 19, also pleaded innocent. Robert C. Weathers Jr., 22, pleaded guilty and his case was referred to the probation department by Judge James C. Connell.

Public Blight

George Sokolsky

It is because of the enormous amounts of money that each political party has to raise to get itself elected to office that our government, despite its enormous complexity, continues to astonishing degree to be governed by presidential favorites — favorites in the sense that someone is rewarded by their appointment to various offices.

SOKOLSKY

Even the president's cabinet, which should be the highest administrative body in the land, often includes men whose principal qualification is fund-raising activity. Sometimes such men are rewarded for pre-convention loyalty to the fortunate contender for the presidency.

-:-

THERE SEEMS to be degrees of loyalty that have to be taken into account: Those who were loyal before the convention; those who became loyal at the convention; those who were bought away from other candidates during the convention; those who became loyal during the election campaign.

It takes any president some time to shake such people out of his administration and he has to do it with extraordinary politeness to avoid damaging local relationships for his next campaign. Some who come in this way prove able and fitting.

As so much political money has its origin in New York, those who have access to New York money-collections are very important persons politically. They often collect from out-of-towners who make their headquarters in New York. The credit goes to their home state.

Often the collectors are lacking in political ideas and are not trained for the peculiarities of government service, but they expect a reward.

SOME OF THEM have never been associated with any activity other than financing, which means that they know how to pull money together from various sources, to put that money behind the purchase of an old venture or to create a new one, to find the personnel for operations and to push a product or a service. These men make excellent managers in private enterprise.

While such managerial qualities are rare and command a high reward in business, they are not always suitable in the policy-making agencies of government, in which the individual is often required to possess philosophic qualities and historic aptitude to grasp the political potentials of a problem. The so-called policy men in government offices are rarely good at management.

The value of the Hoover Commission's reports, apart from the great volume of detail concerning our government made available in the Task Force papers, is that they call attention to the astonishing fact that a nation which is prime in industrial and agricultural efficiency, is incapable of efficiency in government.

Our administration is costly, duplicative, wasteful and hard on citizens. It rarely performs its functions as capably as private business does.

NONE OF THE business men in government would manage their own businesses as they run their government departments. Before they take office, they always know exactly what to do; after they take office, they soon become bogged down in the administrative morass which they find in Washington.

A creeping disease overtakes them: They want to be popular; they want to be admired by their own assistants; they come to like publicity and particularly pictures of themselves. Their wives like Washington.

These business men in government know how to manage their offices efficiently; it is rather that they dare not become involved in politically awkward situations. They are more troubled by public relations than by problems of management.

Ezra Taft Benson is an excellent example of the government official who tries to run a non-politically motivated administrative agency and always finds himself in political difficulties.

HE HAS NOT been able to break away from an internal pressure-group organization, within his administration, which he intended to clean out when he took over but which is still functioning with great power because it is politically stronger than the responsible head of the department.

Robert Stevens was never in charge of the Army when he was its secretary because the political generals and the inside civilian staff organized to control him.

Harold Talbott quarrelled with generals and admirals who finally discovered an Achilles heel and got him out.

The Eisenhower administration has had a large turnover on the second level of administration because so many who came to Washington with him to help establish an efficient administration discovered that what they knew as efficiency outside government is not wanted, for political and fund-raising reasons, inside government.

Babe Zaharias Being Treated For 2nd Cancer

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Babe Didrikson Zaharias, woman athlete of the century, has developed a second cancer but "firmly expects to return to golf."

George Zaharias, her husband, said Friday night doctors at John Sealy Hospital here found a "small cancer lesion" on the right side of the sacrum (posterior of the pelvic girdle). He said X-ray treatments have been started.

Zaharias quoted the doctors as saying the X-ray treatments will stop the pains she has been suffering in her right hip and leg in about 10 days. He said no surgery was contemplated at the time.

Mrs. Zaharias underwent surgery for rectal cancer at Beaumont in 1953. The operation was believed to have completely removed the cancer and the Babe returned to the tournament trail. She won several tournaments, including the National Open last year.

The Associated Press recently named her "Woman Athlete of the Century."

Row Boat, Gasoline Stealing Reported

Thefts of a row boat and gasoline from a truck were reported to the Marion County sheriff's office Friday and today.

The rowboat was taken some time since Sunday from the Whetstone River on his farm on County Road 163 near Caledonia, Wayne Allison told deputies this morning. The 12-foot boat is a green flat-bottom type.

Gasoline has been stolen from a truck parked at the Marion Implement Co., 1027 N. Main St., a Mr. Scott, manager, reported to deputies Friday. The stealing has been going on for about two weeks, he said.

Mother, Ex-Red, Heartbroken

Youth Rejected by Navy Will Sail Out as Seaman

KINGS POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Eugene W. Landy, honor graduate of the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy who was denied a naval reserve commission because his widowed mother once was a Communist, prepared today to sail as an able-bodied seaman aboard an oil tanker.

The 21-year-old Landy—athlete and would-be admiralty lawyer—graduated from the academy here Friday with second highest honors in a class of 96 midshipmen.

Will Sail on Tanker

He is scheduled to sail tonight from Carteret, N. J., aboard the Sun Oil Co.s tanker Texas Sun on a 30-day voyage to Texas.

Landy stood with the rest of his classmates as the ensign's oath was administered after graduation ceremonies, but his hand was not raised.

Landy's diploma, however, gives him a B. S. degree and a Coast Guard license as a third mate in the Maritime Service.

Landy has a six - month period during which he may reapply for a commission. He said Friday he would do so.

The Navy, not questioning Landy's loyalty, said the midshipman was "extremely close to his mother and she has been a Communist."

The mother, Mrs. Deborah Landy, 54, of Bradley Beach, N. J., said her son induced her to quit the Communist party in 1947 or 1948 after she had been a member 10 years.

"He reformed me and yet he is suffering for it," she said.

Called Bright Student

An academy spokesman called Landy, a tennis and football star, "one of the brightest students we ever had," adding:

"Whatever his mother may have done, there has never been any question of Landy's loyalty here."

Landy, whose father died when he was a baby, intends to enter Yale University on a scholarship this fall to study admiralty law. He hopes to supplement that by his wages on the tanker cruise.

Without the naval reserve commission that Merchant Marine graduates normally receive, he is subject to the draft.

The Navy, close-mouthed about the case, has conceded it should have notified Landy of his status weeks ago instead of waiting until almost the eve of his graduation.

Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-Liberal-NY) Friday night termed the Navy's decision "illogical, unjust and unjustifiable."

The senator, saying he is demanding a full report, added:

"I hope and trust that public opinion will catch up with the Navy Department in this particular case."

Air-Conditioning Plant Workers Quit—Too Hot

21 Felled by Fumes

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Twenty-one persons were treated at three Dayton hospitals and were in "fair" condition after being felled by deadly chlorine gas yesterday. The gas, released from a tank car in an industrial accident, affected 36 persons in all, mostly firemen and spectators. A tank car holding the gas and an empty ammonia gas car were jammed together by a switching engine, breaking lines connecting the chlorine car and the Sowunders Chemical Co. plant.

Driver Makes Fatal Mistake

Car Goes Into River Instead of Ferry Boat

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP)—Two little sisters were drowned Friday night when their father drove his automobile into Kentucky river in the mistaken belief he was boarding a ferry.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs Edward Paul, of Lexington, and Mr. and Mrs. George Hisle, Churnville, Ohio, swam to safety Mrs. Paul with her 3-month-old daughter, Carol Ann.

The swift current in the 14-feet of water swept the infant from Mrs. Paul's arms, but Sterling Townsend, a resident of the Jackson's Ferry area near here, plunged in and rescued the child

Townsend said he might have saved Helen Louise Paul 5, and her sister, Donna Marie, 7, and had not the doors on the car been locked.

State Policeman James McMullin said Paul apparently drove into the river in the belief the ferry was on his side of the stream. The car traveled 40 feet into the river before rolling into deep water.

Losing Candidate In Union Election Shoots 3 and Self

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Three business agents of the AFL Marine Firemen's Union, shot Friday by a beserk colleague, were reported improving today, although one is in critical condition.

The attacker, Charles F. (Swede) Berglund, 45, killed himself with a bullet through the head.

Berglund, defeated 122-5 Thursday in his candidacy for recording secretary of the union and then ousted unanimously from the negotiations committee as "a hindrance and a nuisance," apparently tried to wipe out the union's top echelon.

Entering the union headquarters with a revolver, Berglund blazed away at John Hatton, 46, and Stuart Hunt, 38. One bullet pierced Hatton's hat, another his side. His condition is reported good. Hunt's back was grazed.

Then Berglund fired at Henry C. Walker, 46, critically wounding him in the chest. Union President Vincent Malone, 48, and Treasurer Clifford A. Peterson ran out of said Berglund aimed at them but said Berglund aimed atthem but the hammer clicked on empty chambers.

Berglund ran down a corridor, reloaded and shot himself. The wild episode lasted less than 60 seconds.

Kentucky Death Probed

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Kentucky authorities probing the death last month of Earl Jay, about 25, have questioned Mrs. Leonard Daniel Roberson here. Morgan County, Ky., officials are holding her husband in the case, but have filed no charges. Jay, reported missing July 20, was found five days later in a creek, and investigation showed he had been shot by a shotgun blast.
